Graf Zeppelin Starts Return Trip To Freidrichshafen

TAIL WINDS HELP SPEED OF AIRSHIP

Dirigible Expected to Arrive at Seville Thursday For Short Stopoff

SERVICE IS PLANNED

Hugo Eckener Expects Start of Regular Travel To Be in September '31

NAVAL AIR STATION, LAKEHURST, N. J., June 3.—(UP)—

The Graf Zeppelin rode a tail wind into the dawn today enroute to Seville, Spain, and its home station, Friedrichshafen. It is due in Seville Thursday.

Dr. Hugo Eckener lifted his craft from the field here at 9:12 p. m. (EST) last night after a stop of two days and a half. He arrived here from Pernambuco, Brazil, and had flown 12,000 miles in 210 hours and 57 minutes when he landed at Lakehurst Saturday morning.

Plans Service

This voyage of the Zeppelin linked Europe, South America and North America by air. The veteran commander said his experience had proved commercial airship routes would not be feasible south of Pernambuco, and that he expected to start regular transatlantic service from Europe to the United States in September, 1931, in his new ship which is to be called the Friedrichshafen. His second new ship will be called the Lakehurst in honor of the naval air station here.

Eckener said the American airport for his transatlantic service probably would be between Baltimore and Washington.

Splendid weather conditions beckoned this Zeppelin to her seventh transatlantic crossing. A low pressure area over the North Atlantic and a high over the Azores were just to the dirigible's liking and provided a tail wind which was found by sailing north of the Azores.

Slight Delay

Despite wind gusts of 11 miles an hour during the takeoff, the Graf suffered only slight delay. The mechanical contrivances developed by the navy for the hazardous business of moving such a vessel out with wind conditions which might have prevented departure if only man power had been available.

Twenty-two passengers were aboard when the Zeppelin sailed and more than 1000 waved farewell as it rose into the sky to fly over New York, along Long Island and out to sea. It carried 91,000 pieces of mail.

Eckener expected to reach Seville, 5800 miles distant, in 50 hours. He planned to remain there two hours and depart for Friedrichshafen. This last lap of 1250 miles will require about 20 hours.

Massena died at the same crossing where three trainmen were burned fatally last year when a Southern Pacific train struck a gasoline truck trailer, and where several other fatalities occurred during the year.

GOV. YOUNG TO STAND OR FALL ON HIS RECORD

Opens Campaign For Renomination at Gathering In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—(UP)—Declaring that he has "little patience with any man who, when other issues fail, seeks to ride into office on the tail of another man's kite," Gov. C. C. Young opened his Southern California campaign for renomination in an address here last night wherein he directly criticized one of his opponents in the Republican gubernatorial contest.

No names were mentioned, but the audience of nearly 1000 persons assembled at the Alexandria hotel interpreted the governor's remark as referring to District Attorney Buron Fitts who, in campaign speeches about the state has many times referred to his loyalty to President Hoover and his support of the Hoover policies.

Stands on Record

"I am with President Hoover, but in my own campaign I intend to stand or fall on my own record, not on Mr. Hoover's, fine as it is," Gov. Young declared.

"I have little patience with any candidate who, when other issues fail, seeks to ride into public office on the tail of another man's kite," Gov. Young left no doubt as to his own support of Mr. Hoover or the Hoover principles.

"I am with President Hoover," he said, "because I approve and heartily endorse his position on law enforcement; because I am grateful for his splendid assistance in furthering the Colorado river project, so vital to this great southern empire, and because I feel that, in nation-wide scope, he is giving the people exactly what I am endeavoring to give in our own state—a non-spectacular and business-like administration of its affairs."

The major portion of Gov. Young's address was devoted to an inventory of the state's business in Southern California. He pointed out the allocation of more than $9,000,000 for new institutions, additions to existing institutions and new buildings in this section of the state.

"That amount, you will find, is over $2,000,000 more than the combined investment of the two preceding state administrations in similar southern projects," the governor said.

Referring to the controversy of many years standing over division of money between Southern and Northern California, Gov. Young said:

Road Construction

"When I assumed office, highway funds were exhausted and new road construction in Southern California was at a complete standstill. Since that time we have set up a sound highway financing program, have reached a fair and equitable understanding between the north and the south on the proper allocation of highway funds, and have appropriated nearly $20,000,000 for construction in Southern California. We will have built more than 1000 miles of roads in the southern counties by the end of 1930.

California's state government is on a firm financial basis the governor declared.

"Despite all worthwhile capital expenditures," he said, "we have so conserved public funds, according to an impartial survey recently completed by the California Tax Association, that we shall have a surplus of $29,000,000 in the state treasury at the conclusion of my term—a gain of more than $6,000,000 during four years and the greatest reserve fund in the history of state government."

"This has been made possible, partly by most rigid economies in expenditure, and partly by the great savings effected through changing the machinery of state government from 130 independent boards and commissions to 13 strong departments."

IOWA GOVERNOR DEFEATED FOR SENATE POST

Representative Dickinson Runs Far Ahead in Race For Nomination

DES MOINES, Ia., June 3.—(UP)—Gov. John Hammill today conceded to Representative L. J. Dickinson the Republican nomination for senator from Iowa.

Dickinson this morning had a plurality of 60,000 votes over Hammill in the count of ballots cast in yesterday's primary, with about three quarters of the returns in.

Hammill wired Dickinson his congratulations.

Dickinson's victory was so overwhelming that before more than three fourths of the ballot had been counted Gov. Hammill wired his opponent congratulations.

Dickinson had based his campaign on support of the pending Smoot-Hawley tariff bill and upon his record of 12 years in the House of Representatives. Hammill was opposed to the tariff measure and pointed to his record of six years as governor as evidence of his interest in agriculture.

In the contest for the Republican gubernatorial nomination there likewise was a wide margin between Dan W. Turner, the leader and Ed M. Smith, his nearest rival.

The tabulation with 1732 precincts reporting out of Iowa's 2433:

For United States senator: Dickinson, 141,131; Hammill, 81,520; Lund, 29,473; Payne, 8404.

For governor: Turner, 163,958; Smith, 82,118; Lange, 24,315.

Hoover Given Stiff Rebuke By Congress

Only 32 Out of 359 Voters Stay With Him on Veto of Pension Bill

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(UP)—President Hoover's failure to obtain more than 32 votes in congress to sustain his veto of the Spanish war veterans' pension bill marked the first major cleavage to develop between the White House and congress as a whole.

Mr. Hoover's dealings with the senate have been unusually turbulent since his inauguration March 4, 1929, but he suffered only one serious reverse. That was the rejection of his nomination of John J. Parker to the U. S. supreme court.

Most of the other presidential and senatorial differences have centered around the debenture plan of farm relief, which now is stricken from the tariff bill, as it was previously eliminated from the farm relief bill.

The house always has stood by the president, refusing to let the senate have its way on the debenture or on a recent occasion to let the Gadsden purchase coin bill pass over his veto.

However, late yesterday, only 14 representatives stood by Mr. Hoover while 238 were against him. Congressional historians were unable to recollect a time when a president fell so far short of support from his own party in congress, even in the unusual reconstruction days after the civil war.

A similar situation was shown in the senate vote which was 61 to 13 to override the president. Thus, out of 359 votes cast in both houses Mr. Hoover received 32.

The house Republican floor leaders and most of the senate leaders with the exception of Floor Generalissimo Watson and Whip Harrison repudiated.

Harrison pointed out that in the wool schedule 28 rates were increased by the senate and the conferees adopted 24 of these and compromised on the others. He said the conferees adopted every one of the 24 senate increases in the earthenware schedule.

Harrison declared the reason given by house conferees for insisting on a higher rate on red oil was that it was made in Cincinnati, home of Speaker of the House Longworth.

BOURBONS OPEN WAR TODAY ON HAWLEY BILL

Harrison Says Debenture Plan Abandoned Before Demands of House

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(UP)—The export debenture amendment to the tariff bill was abandoned by the senate conferees even before its elimination was demanded by the house, Senator Harrison, Dem., Mississippi, charged in the senate today in opening the Democratic attack on the completed Hawley-Smoot measure.

Harrison vigorously attacked the conference report on the bill, saying that in nearly every case the conferees had adopted the highest rate they could under the rules.

The Mississippi senator, leader of the Democratic-Independent Republican coalition's tariff fight, charged that out of 143 rate increases voted by the senate in other than agricultural commodities, 113 were adopted by the conferees.

Harrison then drew an amusing word picture of the secret conference negotiations, representing that in many cases where the house rates were higher than those of the senate, it was the senate conferees who urged adoption of the house figures.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, asked Harrison how long the conferees spent in discussing the debenture plan.

"The senate conferees insisted on receding to the house before the house conferees asked them to recede," Harrison replied.

"In other words," Borah said, "this great agricultural problem did not occupy the attention of the conferees for more than 30 minutes."

"No longer than 30 seconds," Harrison replied.

Harrison pointed out that in the wool schedule 28 rates were increased by the senate and the conferees adopted 24 of these and compromised on the others. He said the conferees adopted every one of the 24 senate increases in the earthenware schedule.

Harrison declared the reason given by house conferees for insisting on a higher rate on red oil was that it was made in Cincinnati, home of Speaker of the House Longworth.

DRY FORCES WIN VICTORY IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(UP)—House administration forces fighting for adoption of President Hoover's law enforcement reform program, scored a victory late today when the Moore bill, allowing defendants in federal courts to waive jury trial, was carried, 228 to 197.

Before passing an amendment introduced by Chairman Graham of the judiciary committee was adopted, eliminating necessity of obtaining consent of the prosecution. Consent of the court, however, still would be necessary if the bill becomes law.

The house then passed a measure by Representative Stobbs, Republican, Massachusetts, which amends the Jones "five and ten" prohibition law by defining petty offenses as those involving not more than one gallon in quantity, for which the penalty cannot exceed $500 fine or six months in jail. An attempt to amend it by extending the limit to five gallons where home brew is concerned was defeated.

Four Occupants Of Plane Missing

MEXICO CITY, June 3.—(UP)—Four persons were missing in the wilds of Yucatan today with the disappearance of an airplane piloted by Alfonso Garibaldi, nicknamed "The Madman."

The report of the failure of the plane, which had taken off from Merida, to arrive at Payo Obispo was sent to the federal government by the governor of the territory of Quintana Roo, on the Yucatan peninsula. Three passengers were with Garibaldi.

Escape From Reformatory In Michigan

Entire Countryside Joins With Deputy Sheriffs in Search For Men

TONIA, Mich., June 3.—(UP)—Armed with razors and knives, 13 desperate inmates of the state reformatory for the criminally insane here, today made a successful break for freedom. Five of the 13 were known as killers, authorities said.

The entire countryside in arms, private citizens joined with posse or deputy sheriffs, state troopers and vigilantes in the search for the escaped madmen.

Two of the prisoners, Charles Kenney and Iszlan Czordas later were captured.

The men made their escape when they threatened to kill Eugene Owen, superintendent of the hospital, whom they had captured and were holding prisoner.

Take Two Guards

After capturing Owen and two night guards through a ruse, the 13 unlocked cells in which 131 other were housed. These men, however, chose to remain behind, passing up their opportunity to break for liberty.

About 3 o'clock one of the inmates of the dormitory in which the men were housed called to U. S. Davis and Bart Hall, night guards, and told them some of the prisoners were sawing the window bars.

"You better come in here and stop them," they advised.

The guards called Night Superintendent Owen and the three men rushed into the cell. As they did so the 13 madmen overpowered them. Davis and Hall were bound, and their keys taken from them.

In the break, the 13 started for the main gate of the reformatory, taking Owen with them.

As the group passed along they cut communication wires. At the gate the men approached the guard. Two held Owen while two others held razors against his throat. The guard was told to open the gate or Owen would be killed. He complied, and as the gate swung open the men fled, leaving Owen behind.

Spreads Alarm

Because of the broken communication facilities, some delay was encountered in spreading an alarm. Dr. P. C. Robertson, superintendent of the reformatory, was aroused. He immediately ordered all available prison guards to start a search, and a messenger was sent to notify Sheriff William Franch.

Within a short time 100 or more men were aiding in the search. Sheriff Franch ordered out all his deputies and a call was placed for state troopers from East Lansing. Private citizens, fearing their homes were in jeopardy with the desperate killers roaming about, armed themselves and aided in the hunt.

Dr. Robertson expressed belief all the men would be recaptured soon.

LONG BEACH AT POLLS VOTING ON COUNCILMEN

LONG BEACH, June 3.—(UP)—Climaxing a bitterly fought political contest voters of Long Beach today went to the polls to elect a city council and to decide the fate of the 35-year franchise of the Neptune Pier company's proposed pleasure pier. Intense feeling over the issues and candidates was expected to draw nearly 40,000 voters to the polls.

Summed up, today's battle of voters will be the independents against the Progress-Economy league, the latter being popularly termed the "harmony faction."

The Progress-Economy league for the past several months has been staging a spectacular fight to place in the city council its nine candidates on the platform that harmony in city government is necessary to the welfare of the community.

Opposing this faction are the independents advocating the best man from each district regardless of endorsement.

Opinion as to the outcome of the vote deciding whether or not the Neptune Pier company will be granted a 35-year franchise on a proposed pleasure pier, was divided, and the issue itself shadowed by the importance of the council election.

Following are candidates in the

JOHNSON TO SEEK LOST DOCUMENTS

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(UP)—Senator Johnson, Republican, California, who is leading the opposition to the London naval treaty, said today he is convinced the state department failed to send to the senate all documents in the secret negotiations preliminary to the London conference.

He announced he will ask the committee tomorrow to request the state department formally to supply the "missing documents."

Johnson made his announcement after a careful scrutiny of correspondence submitted by the state department in response to a committee request.

DR. G. C. RUBLE, PHYSICIAN IN S. A. SCHOOL, DIES IN L. A.

Dr. G. C. Ruble, 31, for the past two years school physician for the Santa Ana schools, died at 8 o'clock this morning in the Cedars of Lebanon hospital, Los Angeles, following an operation which he underwent, two weeks ago.

His condition had been serious for the past several days. The body was being held in Los Angeles today, pending the making of funeral service plans, but it was understood that burial would be made in Oklahoma City, Okla., former home of Dr. Ruble.

Dr. Ruble was paid a high compliment today by J. A. Cranston, superintendent of schools, who stated that his place here would be hard to fill, so completely had he taken over the work and so well was he thought of by the children.

Dr. Ruble is survived by his widow. They resided at 1317 South Birch street.

Because of the serious condition of the youthful physician, his brother, Dr. Kent Ruble, of Seattle, had been at Dr. Ruble's bedside for the past several days. His widow was there too, when the end came this morning.

REFUSES TO TELL STORY TO PROBERS

Flatly Declines to Answer Questions of Senate Committee at Hearing

MEETING ADJOURNED

Groundwork For Proceedings on Contempt Laid By Solon In Questions

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(UP)—Claiming he was being persecuted, Bishop James Cannon, jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, today flatly declined to answer questions of the senate lobby committee of his anti-Smith activities in the 1928 presidential campaign.

Even after being warned by the committee that he must "take the consequences of his act," Cannon asserted he must decline to answer, thereby opening the issue of possible contempt proceedings similar to those which resulted in Harry F. Sinclair, the oil magnate, going to jail.

For more than an hour, Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat, Montana, acting chairman, laid the groundwork for possible contempt proceedings. He developed that Cannon had used $303 of the funds of the Methodist board of prohibition and social service, of which he was chairman for the purpose of calling the Asheville, N. C., conference in 1928, to plan the campaign in the south against the Democratic presidential nominee, Alfred E. Smith, of New York.

Walsh did this when Cannon contended his anti-Smith activities were purely personal, but when Walsh showed the use of $303 of the board's funds and again pressed his question as to whether Cannon was influential in calling the Asheville conference, the Bishop said:

"Oh, you get around it that way. Well, I can't see why you single out this group to inquire into its activities and mine. What I did in the 1928 campaign is known to the world."

"I cannot look upon this investigation in any way except that you are trying to persecute me."

Walsh, who is a Catholic, replied that "I cannot escape the implication in your statement against me, but I have my duty to do as a senator and I am doing it."

"Oh, I don't say you personally are persecuting me, Senator Walsh," Cannon protested. "I respect you very highly, but the whole atmosphere in this issue has been such that it leads me to believe it is persecution."

Walsh then adjourned the committee until 10 a. m., tomorrow, directing Cannon to appear at that time.

No action regarding possible contempt of the senate could be taken because only two members of the committee were present, Walsh and Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin. Walsh announced he would confer with other members of the committee later in the day to determine what action is to be taken against Cannon.

Report Finding Of Maury Graham In Oklahoma Town

ELK CITY, Okla., June 3.—(UP)—The Elk City Daily News said today that Maury Graham, long missing airplane pilot of the Western Air Express, had appeared here and was working as an automobile mechanic.

Graham was reported lost last January while flying from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City. The Elk City paper quoted the man purporting to be Graham as saying he had landed near Las Vegas, Nev., and wandered into that city last March 28. The paper quoted him as saying he was "through with flying."

Editors of the paper said appearance of the man here coincided with description of the missing flyer.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 3.—(UP)—A. L. Bodine, field manager of the Western Air Express here, discredited the report from Elk City, Okla., that Maury Graham had appeared there. He said that Graham was a California man and had no associations in Oklahoma.

RULE ON AREA OF HOMES UP FOR REVISION

Provision in the city zoning ordinance limiting one dwelling house to 5000 square feet of space will be changed, it was indicated at the meeting of the city council last night.

An application of W. H. Dixon for permission to construct a duplex at 919 South Flower street, in a territory restricted to single residences, for several weeks has been booting back and forth between the planning commission and the council.

It bobbed up again last night, when the commission for the third time recommended that the application be denied. The commission has taken the position that application cannot be granted without violation of the ordinance, and that to grant the request would be contrary to good city planning.

Dixon proposes the erection of a duplex and a garage building at the rear with a second story devoted to flat. Location of three families on an ordinary city lot, and a single residence zone would be the result.

Further consideration will be given the Dixon application, and one from H. F. McKean, for permission to erect two residences on a lot on the south side of West Pine street, between Flower and Parton, at an informal conference of the council Monday afternoon of next week. At that time it is anticipated the council will decide to change the ordinance so as to place construction of more than one dwelling on a city lot in the classification of special uses. Under this classification the commission and council may grant permits for such grouping without changing the zoning of a piece of property upon which an owner may desire to erect more than one dwelling.

"If operation of the zoning ordinance is going to block a resident who desires to build two residences on a lot, we had better change the ordinance," remarked W. J. Kelley, who added that other features in the ordinance deny to owners of close in vacant property the right to derive a revenue from such property.

First reading was given an ordinance governing the erection of signs and sign painting in Santa Ana. Clyde Rowland, Doc Jones, Frank Hoag and F. S. Paul, representing the Orange County Sign Painters' association met with the council in informal session yesterday afternoon and discussed the proposed ordinance. The document prohibits the erection or painting of a sign by any person unless a business license is procured. Writing of card signs by an employee of a business house is permitted as is also sign painting where it is done by a regular employee. The ordinance is designed to strike at employment by chain organizations of outside contractors in painting signs and erecting them. Comment was made that among other big institutions, 11 companies send contracting firms here to paint oil stations, with such contractors escaping the business tax.

With owners of 198 feet of property abutting on the alley running from Chestnut to Camille, between Broadway and Birch, withdrawing from the petition, the petition filed last week for paving of the alley was denied. J. F. Adams, who circulated the withdrawing petition, asserted that some of the signers to the original petition had been told that if they did not sign the council would force the improvement regardless. Those withdrawing were Mrs. Allison, Mrs. Ella Palmer, Mrs. Elizabeth Decker and L. A. Schlesinger.

The council received notice that there would be a meeting of city councils of the county at the Santa Ana city hall, the evening of June 12, for discussion as to what proportion of gas tax funds cities should receive in event of the success of a movement to have a portion of the funds distributed to cities. The Orange County City Councils association will meet at the same place on June 25. Joint hearings by the council and planning commission will be held next Monday evening on the application of the Standard Oil company for permission to locate a super oil station on the southeast corner of Main and Seventeenth streets and the request of the Reformed Presbyterian church to locate its church building on the southeast corner of Flower and Bishop. The building is to be moved from the corner of First and Spurgeon.

It was asserted that Dr. Flood failed to observe the 10-foot set back line established on the street, and the agreement is a protective measure for the city.

Recommendation that the city start a nursery for supplying ornamental street trees to residents was taken under advisement.

Applications of M. Bordon for permission to operate a store at 207 East Fourth street for the buying and selling of clothing and jewelry, and O. B. Request of D. K. Hammond for establishment of one-way traffic through the high school grounds was denied.

The city clerk was directed to advertise for bids for supplying the city with gasoline for one year, bids to be opened on June 23. The city consumes approximately 50,000 gallons a year. The Standard Oil company has had the contract for the past year, delivering to the city at 12 1-2 cents a gallon.

Plans and specifications were adopted for paving Shelton street, from First to Fairview.

HOOVER GIVEN STIFF REBUKE BY CONGRESS

Fess declined to follow the recommendations of the chief executive. Reiterating the views set forth in his veto message, the President said he had been encouraged by messages from veterans endorsing his stand.

His statement follows: "I favored a liberalization of the Spanish War veterans' pensions because they have not been on a parity with other services, but I have not changed my opinion that it would have been worked out in such a way that rich men, or men having substantial incomes, should not draw pensions from the government. I have made no suggestion at any time of a pauper provision against veterans or anything akin thereto.

"I do not believe we should alter the principles which have been held for Civil War veterans these 70 years, requiring that men claiming pensions should have at least 90 days service.

"Further than this, I do not believe it is right to change our national policy and to call upon the nation to pay disability allowances to men who have or may tomorrow destroy their health by vicious habits.

"I have received numerous communications from veterans supporting these views."

CHARGES BASED ON ACTIVITIES IN SANTA ANA

As a result of complaints from a number of Santa Ana people who have had dealings with the United States Foreign Securities company, of Los Angeles, Frederick W. Bahls, deputy in the state corporation department, and Paul M. Wikoff, deputy commissioner of corporations, were in Santa Ana yesterday for the purpose of lodging a complaint against men connected with the company.

Bahls signed a complaint in which the men were charged with violation of the corporate securities act and conspiracy to violate the same act.

The men named in the complaints are G. L. Keller, J. L. Keller, Ralph Gorman, Arthur G. Young and Howard Shores.

The action was to be taken pursuant to a campaign under the direction of Assistant Corporation Commissioner Howard Ellis to prevent individuals from operating as brokers without licenses.

Bahls said. The United States Foreign Securities corporation was denied a broker's license on May 23, according to Bahls.

The concern, located in the James Oviatt building, Los Angeles, is an outgrowth of the old International Securities company, he said, pointing out that the latter concern formerly sold "Ford of Germany" stock. He also said that a broker's license for 1930 had not been issued to the International Securities company.

The new corporation, the United States Foreign Securities corporation, has been exchanging four shares of the trust stock for every share of "Ford of Germany" stock, he said, according to Bahls, who also said that in many cases "Ford of Germany" had not been delivered to purchasers and that the company was "taking this way out."

Several Santa Ana residents, he said, have bought "Ford of Germany" stock.

DEATHS

As you read II Corinthians you will be inspired by St. Paul's presentation of the fact that, even while we are on earth, we build up the "eternal man," which is beyond the power of the decay and dissolution, which is the lot of the physical shell or tent, in which the spirit dwells.

That central part of you, which is immortal, lives from within and is growing stronger and more vital day by day, as you draw near to the Christ and drink in His spirit regardless of the condition of your body.

When you are through with your body you will leave it behind you and pass on into the dear ones who have gone before.

BEACH COUNCIL ENDS MEETING NEAR MIDNIGHT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 3.—The city council was in session until near midnight Monday night due to opposition that developed to the passage of an ordinance regulating the issuance of permits for the erection of oil derricks. This ordinance takes the issuance of oil derrick permits out of the hands of the building inspector and places it with the council. It provides for steel derricks exclusively within a distance of 125 feet of another derrick or a city street, requires a bond of $5000 to be posted to guarantee the cleaning up of the lots when the derrick is abandoned, either after the oil well has ceased producing or the well has failed to produce and is abandoned.

The lumber interests fought the steel derrick provision and lot owners fought the bond requirement provision. In the end the city council postponed passage of the ordinance until Wednesday night of this week, when it will be taken up on second reading again and will again be open for discussion.

Possibly a dozen citizens took part in the discussion. Mayor Bowen and City Attorney L. Blodgett answered questions regarding the ordinance and defended its provisions.

The ordinance restricting oil drilling on the beach or for three miles out in the ocean in the area from Ninth to First street was passed on second reading.

The report of Paul Bailey, Santa Ana engineer, on the plans for pier repairs and pier extension was read and accepted. The report endorsed the plans as prepared by City Engineer Merwin Rosson, and reviewed these plans in detail.

All other matters coming before the council were held up for final action at the meeting Wednesday night. These matters included a request from W. R. Osborn for an allowance from the music and promotion fund of $113.45 to have some folders printed for the Chamber of Commerce of which organization Mr. Osborn is president. Also a request for the employment of a municipal concert orchestra of 21 pieces to play at the beach each Sunday.

The American Legion through Commander William Curnutt asked for $1700 for the Fourth of July celebration here. Permit for operating a tram car system to and from the end of the municipal pier was asked by John Cusolito. A request for aid in a financial way to the Boy Scout movement and the employment with salary paid by the city of Howard Phillips as assistant scout master, was presented in a written communication signed by Dr. H. E. Hawes and C. P. Pann. A request from Mrs. L. E. Ridenour, president of the P. T. A. for employment of a playground supervisor or supervisors at the beach this summer was received.

The presentation of all these various matters brought forth their discussion and in each instance final action by the council was postponed.

PACIFIC SAVINGS REPORTS INCREASE

Another favorable increase in resources was achieved by Pacific States Savings during May, it is indicated by that institution's statement of condition as of May 31, which was released today. Resources as shown in the statement total $84,233,224.95, which is a gain of $934,786.54 over April 30. The statement reflects an increase in savings during the month of $1,069,731.89.

The most notable gain shown in the statement was that of loans, which showed a net increase for the month of $2,111,223.69 and which, according to the officers of the company, is a favorable reflection on the institution's recently introduced seven per cent rate. During May, it is pointed out, Pacific States Savings received applications totalling more than $14,000,000 and set up new loans amounting to more than $3,000,000.

My complaint enclose basket, is it biscuit is it meal?"

Germany is granting relief to more than 2,000,000 unemployed.

Major W. H. Lanagan of the corps of engineers of the United States army stationed in Los Angeles asked regarding the starting of the pier extension and repairs, he being interested through the granting of a permit for this work from the war department.

Bills for the month were allowed and reports of city officers read and approved. The city attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance creating new stage stops at the Pacific-Electric depot for the taken over by the Pacific to be operated stages which have been created from the new location.

Schools In Yorba Linda Are Closed

Due to development over the week end of a case of infantile paralysis, the trustees of the Yorba Linda schools late yesterday closed the schools of that community for the rest of the term.

Edith Barton, 5 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hurliss Barton, a pupil in the kindergarten, is the student afflicted. Her left leg and arm are paralyzed.

Graduation exercises scheduled for Friday may be postponed.

KREG DUO USES DEPUTY TELLS NEW DEVICE TO IMPROVE TONE ABOUT WALNUT PEST CONTROL

Something brand new in the musical world, the Vib-rola, which is said to add a new lustre and tone quality to all types of fretted musical instruments, has been placed on the market by the Southern California Music company, of Los Angeles, national distributors for the Vib-rola Manufacturing company of Santa Ana.

In the short time the device has been out it has achieved a quick success. Christening it "The Soul of Fretted Musical Instruments," the manufacturers claim for the Vib-rola a perfect vibrato, an effect, it is said, never before obtained with a fretted instrument. This harmonious vibrato is alternately varied above and below the actual pitch of the instrument.

Three advantages of the Vib-rola, outlined by the manufacturer, are, a deeper tone from the instrument, a sound of soft, throbbing chords, and a reduction in string breakage.

Many radio and disc recording artists and orchestras are featuring the device. Earl Burnett and his Los Angeles Biltmore Hotel orchestra have recorded two selections in which the Vib-rola plays an important role. They are "With You" and "There's Danger in Your Eyes," Brunswick records. In addition to Burnett's band, Paul Specht, Ted Lewis and Ray West, as well as other musical organizations throughout the country, have taken on the Vib-rola to lend color and distinction to their orchestrations and music. But perhaps the biggest success of the Vib-rola is its immediate recognition by various manufacturers of fretted instruments, who are now equipping their instruments with the Vib-rola. The device is easily attached.

The "Doc and Ray Vib-ra Banjo Duo" through their unusual ability on the Vibra banjos and guitars, have been employed by a number of the largest music stores in Los Angeles, demonstrating the Vib-rola from their show windows over a public address system.

You may hear the versatility of "Doc and Ray" on their Vib-rola banjos and guitars tonight from 8:30 to 9 o'clock over KREG.

Workingmen's singing clubs are becoming popular in Germany.

Editor's Note: The full text of the talk by W. H. Wright, a portion of which is printed below, will be published on the Farm page of the Register next Saturday.

The best and quickest type of farm relief for Orange county walnut growers is worm and aphid control, which will give immediate returns, said W. H. Wright, deputy agricultural commissioner of Orange county, in a talk last night over KREG, official broadcasting station of the Santa Ana Register. Packing house crack test records show that there are half as many worms in sprayed orchards as in those not sprayed and that orchards dusted with a combination dust showed practically no reduction last year in the percentage of worms, as compared with untreated orchards, he said.

Orchards which received two dust applications, for worms and aphids, showed practically the same reduction as in sprayed orchards, he said.

"We are at the height of the season for worm control. In some orchards aphids are not very numerous at this time but treatment should be given before large numbers are present. If a grower sprays for worms alone at this time it is probable that it will be necessary for him to treat again for aphids within the next two or three weeks," said Wright.

Outstanding advantages of walnut pest control were listed by Wright as follows: Increased returns, amounting to $75 to $150 per ton; assuming a cost per acre for spraying and later dusting to be $20, and 1500 pounds as the average acre production, and knowing the increase per pound to be three and three-quarters to seven and one-half cents, the net profit from treatment amounts to $36 to $93 per acre; reduction of one-third in labor costs by making it unnecessary to sort out wormy nuts; increased handling speed in the packing houses, making it possible to get a larger quantity of nuts on the early market, when prices are higher.

walnut pest control is the only factor involved in gilly production, it is one of the most important parts of the production program. ## Tells Dyspeptics What To Eat

Avoid Gas—Indigestion
Strict diets are often unnecessary in stomach trouble. While some foods do produce excessive acidity and many stomachs do generate "too much acid" causing gas, sourness, bloating and after-eating pains, the trouble may be safely and quickly corrected by the use of a good alkaline. Bismarck Magnesia—powder or tablets—is the ideal for this purpose. Just a little after meals neutralizes all the excess acid, prevents souring, breaks up gas and ends indigestion. Favorite foods no longer upset stomach and digestion is easy and painless. It will do all this for you or money back. Reliable druggists everywhere sell Bismarck Magnesia with this guarantee—Adv.

Paving Program For City Of Orange To Be Taken Up

CITY COUNCIL MAY DISCUSS IMPROVEMENTS

ORANGE, June 3.—The city council meets today at 1 p. m. in the council chamber of the city hall for the regular monthly business session. City Clerk Paul V. Clark reports that there is no unfinished business to be transacted and that the usual routine matters will come up for action.

A discussion of the proposed paving program and the possibility of reviving the storm drain proposition may come before the members of the board today, Clark indicated. The matter was discussed at the last session of the board on May 26 and a committee, composed of Ben Dierker and Clyde Watson, was appointed to conduct an investigation and make a report to the council at a future meeting. The matter was initiated by council members.

Previous estimates of the construction of the storm drain placed the cost at approximately $60,000. This matter was defeated when it was placed before the citizens of Orange in a bond election about a year ago. The street improvement program which has been discussed is said to be very comprehensive and will make a much larger total if this proposition is included in another bond election, should the council determine that such a program is advisable at this time.

Sentiment for the improvement program is reported to have been ripening since the defeat of the bonds last year although there is determined opposition to the project in some quarters.

METHODIST WOMEN TO MEET THURSDAY

ORANGE, June 3.—The regular W. F. M. S. will meet in the ladies' parlors of the Methodist church Thursday at 2:30 o'clock. Women's Missionary meeting will be held Thursday at 2:30 in the church parlor of the Christian church.

ORANGE, June 3.—Mrs. Charles W. Meadows, wife of the proprietor of the Meadows print shop on South Orange street, is expected home this week. Mrs. Meadows has been critically ill at St. Joseph's hospital on Stewart drive for the past four weeks but is recovering. Great improvement has been seen in her condition by attending physicians. She suffered from dropsy and a weakened heart.

Ivan Swanger To Preside At Lion Club's Gathering

In the absence of Dr. J. E. Riley, club president, who is attending a dental convention in Riverside, the presiding officer tomorrow will be Ivan Swanger, vice president.

HIGHER PRICES FOR FRUIT TO BE PAID SOON

ORANGE, June 3.—Prices received from shipments of citrus fruits made through the association give rise to the hope that growers will receive a gross return equal to that piled up for the record breaking crop produced last year, it was indicated by C. C. Hillis, manager of the Orange County Fruit exchange, in a discussion of the citrus situation.

The exchange executive also revealed that the returns so far would indicate that better prices are being received for fruit shipped through the association than for sales that have been made of fruit on the trees. The slightly lower price trend on the market now will probably lead to a checking of immediate shipments which in turn is expected to develop more confidence on the part of the buyers.

"Our shipments of 840 cars of Valencia to date is 18 per cent of the total crop estimate," Hillis said. "And although fully half of these shipments are still in transit, the half that has been disposed of has been sold at very satisfactory prices to the growers. Returns would indicate that any sales of fruit on the trees made in this territory are under the price received for fruit shipped through the association."

"We hope that the gross return this year will equal that of last year, although the present crop is estimated at only about 65 per cent of the record crop of last year. "There is a slightly lower price trend in the market now which it is hoped will have an effect on immediate shipments, serving to check them so that it will give a chance to build up confidence on the part of the buyers."

They Speak to the Point

The figures displayed in this monthly statement speak to the point. They say "Conservatism"—and "Liquidity" to those who realize the necessity of well rounded savings protection.

They demonstrate a continuation of the constant growth that has advanced Pacific States Savings to the eminent position of second largest building and loan association in the Nation.

But of more significance: These figures demonstrate a continuation of the time-tested policies which, by keeping our record flawless, have won us the confidence of 65 thousand savings customers.

And of greatest significance: These figures show that Pacific States Savings is growing in strength more rapidly than in size... that our reserves and invested capital are increasing in greater ratio than our resources.

On the basis of this statement, we solicit the use of our convenient 6% facilities for savings by individuals, firms and corporations, executors, trustees and guardians of minor children, and other legal custodians of funds, all of whom are empowered by law to place their funds here. We invite large and small funds.

SWING AGAINST POLLUTION OF LOCAL BEACHES

NEWPORT BEACH, June 3.—Congressman Phil D. Swing, representing this district at Washington, is in favor of enforcing the present laws against polluting the beaches with oil, and also of passing any other legislation that may be necessary to eliminate this evil.

Statements to this effect are made in letters from Swing to the Orange County Coast Association and the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, which, with other bodies along the coast and elsewhere, have been active in this matter and have taken it up with Swing, the California senators and state officials.

Patrol boat service to catch offenders against the bilge-dumping law has been asked by the Coast association and various chambers of commerce, and according to word received from the State Fish and Game commission at Sacramento recently, one is to be provided.

The suggestion has also been made that some of the boats used in enforcing the prohibition and narcotic laws might also be used to secure convictions against oil-dumping offenders.

Laws regarding oil-dumping from boats have been on the statute books for many years. It is difficult, however, for private persons to secure evidence against offenders, but it is believed that if patrol boats were engaged in this work, it would be easy to convict those who are guilty.

Leadership

Firestone brought out for automobile use:

- The first straight-side tire.
- The first rubber non-skid tread.
- The first commercial demountable rim.
- The first patented Gum-Dipping process.
- The first balloon tire.

Performance

Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires:

- hold all world's records on road and track for safety, mileage, speed and endurance.
- for ten consecutive years have won the 500 mile Indianapolis Endurance Race.
- were on winning cars in Pike's Peak Race—where a slip meant death.
- were on the Studebaker car which on a board track at Atlantic City in 1928 went 30,000 miles in 26,326 minutes.
- ran 71,351 miles on a Detroit taxicab, before the first tire was replaced.
- were on the G. M. C. truck carrying a two-ton load that hung up the Coast-to-Coast endurance record.
- for 10 years have been sold on a mileage cost basis to taxicab and bus lines in greater volume than any other tires, and now equip the world's largest taxicab fleet and the world's longest bus line.

FOR ten consecutive years all the winning cars in that classic of automobile racing, the Indianapolis 500 Mile Endurance race, flashed across the finish line on Firestone Tires.

IN FACT every famous driver in these races used Firestone Tires. Every one of them for years has refused to use any other and the reasons behind their choice tell a story of Firestone Leadership.

THE Indianapolis Race requires the most expert driving in the world. It is won or lost on the turns. The man who can make the turns at the highest speed is the man who wins. The track is of rough brick and bumpy. As the race progresses, it becomes soaked with oil and very slippery.

DOWN the straightaways the cars pound at sometimes 150 miles an hour, but as the turn comes the driver must judge how much speed he can preserve and how much skid he can take and still stay in the land of the living. This judgment must stay with him through 500 miles—with changing track conditions, with nerves gone, with hands and body numb and with eyes blinded.

THESE men flirt with death, but there is one chance they will not take. They will not take a chance with tires.

THESE drivers buy Firestone Tires. Their tires are not given to them by Firestone, much less are they paid to use them. And herein is the story.

MANY years ago, Firestone did pay drivers to race. The most famous of these drivers was Barney Oldfield and he painted on his car: "Firestone Tires Are My Only Life Insurance."

IN THE course of time Firestone withdrew from racing and the making of racing tires. Then the trouble began. The leading drivers of the country said that it was Mr. Firestone's business whether or not he paid them to use his tires, but it was their business to judge the risks they would take. They would race on Firestone Tires, no matter what they cost, or they would not race at all. And so Firestone had again to make racing tires.

THE difference between a Firestone racing tire and the Firestone Tire you can buy from your dealer lies only in the tread. The heat generated in a tire during a race is terrific. It is heat that causes most tires to fail. The ordinary road tread will burn up on a track, and so for it Firestone substitutes a harder, lighter tread which would be exceedingly uncomfortable on the road but which perfectly answers the track requirements.

THAT, however, is only a detail. The reason why Firestone Tires stand up in any race is to be found in their construction—the same construction that you get in any Firestone Tire.

IN ALL tires other than Firestone, the cotton cords which go to make up the carcass of the tire are merely imbedded in rubber. In the complex twisting and pulling of these cords in a tire in action, the fibers in the cords rub against one another. The friction generates heat and when the heat reaches a certain point the tire collapses.

IN THE Firestone Tire, each of the millions of fine cotton fibers going to make up a cord is thoroughly insulated with rubber in the famous, patented Gum-Dipping process which is exclusive with Firestone. This reduces the friction in the cords and therefore reduces the heat and enables the Firestone Tire to perform normally under conditions where any other tire would collapse.

NO racing car can be better than its tires. Neither can any other car. The racing drivers trust life and victory to Firestone Leadership. That same leadership is available to you at all Firestone Dealers.

GREAT PITCHER CLOSES CAREER WITH PHILLIES

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Grover Cleveland Alexander, last of the mighty pitching triumvirate of Mathewson, Johnson and Alexander, is missing today from the major league roster for the first time since he came out of Nebraska 20 years ago as a gangling youngster with blinding speed.

His major league career ended where it started—in the handbox ball park of the Philadelphia National league club. William F. Baker, president of the Phillies, announced today that Alexander had been made a free agent and that all National league clubs had waived on him.

The passing of the 43-year-old Alexander takes out of the major leagues a man who compiled a record that surpassed that of Christy Mathewson for 372 games won. It also removes a personality that had no parallel in baseball's history.

One of Three Greatest
Experts generally concede that there have been three great pitchers of modern times—Walter Johnson, specialist in speed; Christy Mathewson of the famous "fadeaway"; and Alexander, who combined speed, change of pace and infinite cunning.

Johnson's pitching days are over and he now is manager of the Washington Senators.

Mathewson is dead.

Today Alexander takes the back trail that waits for all ball players when their steady arms turn to lead.

It is typical of Alexander that he should refuse to believe he is through. After Baker's announcement today, the pitcher, in the drawl that is as famous as his curve, declared he still had winning ball in his arm. He is anxious to pitch on the Pacific Coast and it is understood that Baker is willing to help him obtain a job. He will remain on the Phillies' payroll until he finds work.

SNOBBERY REAL TROUBLE WITH BRITISH GOLF

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, June 3.—British snobbery being what it is and Jones being what he is, the chances now are about one in two that they will have their amateur golf championship permanently borrowed every time an American Walker cup team goes across in order to make the British come across, so to speak.

It is significant that the last two Walker cup invasions have seen Sweetser win in 1926 and Jones repeat in 1930. This represents the perfect average of two out of a possible two, whereas previously Walker cup invaders were able to win a grand total of no titles in an equal number of visits.

Not Always Jones
The answer? The obvious answer is Jones this time. But it wasn't Jones in 1926 and it may not be Jones in 1934. The real answer, therefore, is the definite inferiority of British golf even in the face of conditions that are strictly to its fancy.

It has the winds that have sung lullabies in its ears since infancy. These favor humbled golf. It has the courses that offer strange, almost unorthodox problems to the unwary eye of the stranger. But it hasn't the golf and won't have it until it uproots the decadent aristocracy of its game and gets right down to decent vulgarity. The British simply are too class conscious to play the kind of golf that democratic America can and does turn out.

Discourage Initiative
They discourage initiative on the part of those who are presumed to have no business showing anything except a decent respect for their betters. They snub the upstarts and shun the society of honest workingmen who have the audacity to play the game too well.

For example, probably the strongest amateur front that Britain could have presented this time is now playing professional golf in American and England. One of these is Abe Mitchell, who found it more convenient to play professional golf than to accept the social ostracism that came his way as an amateur. Mitchell was a gardener.

GOES TO BOSTON

Owners of the Boston Braves parted with three of their players and some of their cash in order that they might acquire from Portland in the Pacific Coast league the sensational "Buster" Chatham, below, to perform at shortstop in the bean town. Buster is a little fellow, but his size has never been a handicap to him thus far in his baseball career.

SANTA ANA 'B' TEAM TO PLAY IN EYE-OPENER

Two games, one of them "civil war" between Santa Ana and Orange, will be spread before the city's night baseball populace in the Bowl tonight.

Scheduled to get under way at 7 o'clock, the eye-opener matches Kenneth Sturzeneger's Shell Bees, local representative in the Orange County "B" league, with Newport Harbor. The Star-Orange night nightcap will follow immediately, beginning about 8:15.

Although neither team has a chance in the world of winning the first half of the split championship season which ends in less than two weeks, there is more rivalry among the Santa Ana and Orange players than between any other organizations in the league except Santa Ana and Anaheim.

Lackaye Leads Invaders
This is because the Orange unit is headed by a Santa Ana, George Lackaye, and the bulk of

Hill Suspended Indefinitely By Loop Head

Liston ("Memphis") Hill, colorful shortstop of the Santa Ana Stars, was indefinitely suspended late today for "unbecoming conduct" during the course of the Santa Ana-Huntington Beach National Night league baseball game at Huntington Beach last Friday.

The suspension, made by President George Peterkin, will keep Hill out of the local lineup tonight as well as Friday when the home club meets La Habra.

This will result in a revamped Star lineup facing Orange. Merrill will play second base, Scott third and Daley short. Bell will replace Merrill in the outfield.

Baseball eyes of many Southern California cities will be focused on Whittier tonight where the National league's leading teams, Anaheim and Whittier, collide in the most important game of the first half of the split championship season.

With only four more games to go, "Rube" Ellis' powerful Quakers are two steps ahead of the Valencians but Anaheim might get a tie out of it by winning the remainder of its starts because Whittier still has tough tussles ahead with Olive and Santa Ana.

The Valencians will be severely handicapped, however. They must do without the services of Joe Ochoa, star pitcher, who was bruised about the shoulder when the automobile in which he and George Preble, a teammate, were riding overturned near Delhi last Saturday night. Preble escaped injury, but Ochoa probably will not be able to go to the post again for a week or 10 days.

Al Bushman will work for Anaheim in the absence of Ochoa.

PRINTERS WIN FOURTH GAME IN CITY LOOP

Winner of four consecutive games the Dennis Printers today were top-heavy favorites to win the 1930 championship of Santa Ana City league while they are leading by a safe margin.

Carlisle Dennis' men overpowered "Tex" Bergman and the Excelsior creamery in the Bowl last night, the count being 11 to 6. The Printers have made plenty of runs and hits off every pitcher they have met this term.

In the other half of the night's double header, the Courthouse blanked the Auto Club of Orange County, 3 to 0. "Splice" Spicer kept Garden Grove was out in front today in the race for the championship of the Orange County "B" league, subsidiary of the National Night Baseball league.

Manager Charles Anderson's Chilpepper juniors swept into first place last night by defeating Orange, 6 to 3, while Whittier was smacking down the powerful Olive delegation, 4 to 2.

Westminster snowed out Yorba Linda in the only other game of the evening.

Orange, still to win its first game, gave Garden Grove keener competition than was expected. Pete Winslow kept the league leaders pretty well under his heel before and after the fifth when the Chilpeppers scored five of their six tallies. Winkler outpitched Winslow, however, allowing only five hits and striking out 13. The score:

WILLARD WINS SECOND SERIES FROM LATHROP

By HAROLD YOEUL
Frances E. Willard junior high school today had clinched two of its three 1930 baseball series with Julia C. Lathrop, its old Santa Ana rival.

Coach Arnold Lund's eighth graders won from Coach Ferris Scott's team, 11 to 4, at Lincoln field yesterday. This was the second straight victory of the Indian eighth graders. Frances Willard's seventh grade outfit also won its series with Julia Lathrop, losing the first set-to but winning the next two in a row.

Julia Lathrop is one-up in the ninth grade series which will be completed tomorrow afternoon at Lathrop field.

Campbell, Kirby In Bout Tonight

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—Frankie Campbell of Los Angeles, will meet Tom Kirby of Boston, in the 10-round main event on the Olympic auditorium card here tonight. They are to weigh in at 185 pounds.

less tie between the juniors and sophomores. In the second game yesterday, the seniors nosed out the sophomores, 6 to 0 after working the ball almost the length of the field and bucking it over. Another senior tally was narrowly averted when Bell, soph safety, pulled down an upperclass back from behind.

The seniors and juniors will play off for the title today and the culmination of the spring practice season will come Thursday when the graduating members of the last year's team play the prospective eleven of next fall. This is expected to be a torrid game with many of the stars returning to help down the 1930 team.

THAT FUTURE SHUFFLE

The Hudkins brothers of Nebraska moved into Los Angeles late in 1924 with no money in their pockets. One of the boys—Ace—was his name, and he was not quite 20 years old—claimed he was a fighter. The brothers scoured Los Angeles fight clubs, hunting a match for Ace so they all could eat.

Ace is not quite 25 now. The ruddy complexion and pleasant features he took to California with him have been altered. His nose is spread and bashed in. His face is scarred and dented and puffed. Although he's still less than 25 years of age, he's a long way from being the boy he used to be.

"A few more grinds and I'll quit the game," the Ace told a friend recently.

His love for fighting apparently has waned. Possibly he only wants to avoid the fate that has overtaken other fighters of his type. The Hudkins brand of milling and tearing in has put many a ringster on round heels and added a shuffle to his walk.

$265,000 WITH WALKER

The second bout between Hudkins and Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, set a record for California fight gates. Receipts of that tussle counted up to $150,000. In his first attempt to wrest the crown from the middleweight champion at Chicago in 1928, only $115,000 was paid in at the windows.

In addition to his tilt with Walker, the Nebraska drew big gates in every one of his major fights in California. Golden State fans paid $50,000 to see him go on with Tommy O'Brien, $40,000 with Bert Colima, $35,000 with Lew Tendler, $30,000 with Sergeant Sammy Baker, $25,000 with Joe Anderson, and $51,000 with Armand Emanuel.

Hudkins' fights were popular in California. In fact, they were popular almost every place, for the "Nebraska Wildcat" was a crowd pleaser, with his indomitable courage for boring into his opponents and his wild, reckless swinging that furnished action through every minute of a three-minute round.

would get work frequently. The big fellow has done well since taking his regular turn on the turret, one of his finest performances being against the league-leading Whittier Quakers whom he carried 13 innings before losing.

Since the Stars have no field manager, the commission failing to name even a temporary successor to Bill Cole when it met yesterday, there is no way of knowing who will pilot the club tonight. Team members will meet before the game and indicate what they want to do about it.

Cornelius For Stars

Joe Cornelius, however, is pretty sure to be the gunner for he has not started a game since the Anaheim tussle. Wilcox will be the receiver. It is for the new boss to determine whether further experiments will be made with the club's infield. Darwin Scott has been stationed at second base, Leavitt Daley at short and "Memph" Hill at third. Some think the old combination—Daley at second, Hill at short and Scott at third—worked to better advantage.

Nelson, Schuchardt, Bell and Merrill will be available for outfield service as usual.

The Santa Ana-Newport Harbor conflict will afford many fans their first opportunity of seeing the brand of ball that is being played in the "B" circuit.

Ed Banta will tell for the Santa Ana with "Ebb" Ebersole behind the bat. Ed Adams at first, "Franny" Norton at second, Ora Sands at third and "Doc" Wright at short comprises the Bees' infield. Marvin Johnston, Lory Walbridge, "Sloat" Dorman and Al Jasper are Sturzeneger's fly-hawks.

but St. Louis obtained him, and that summer he pitched them into the world series.

Stopped Yank Hitters
Twice during the world series he was called on to start against the heaviest hitting team in baseball—the New York Yankees. Twice he beat them, allowing only four hits in the first game and eight in the next. In the seventh game with the winning run on base for the Yankees, Alexander was called to relieve Haines. He struck out Lazzari, and St. Louis won.

Numerous suspensions for failure to keep training dot his career and it is believed that this laxity was instrumental in the trade last year by which Alexander went back to the Phillies. This spring time took its toll from him and he failed to win for Bayer. He closed 20 years of major league service, during which he pitched almost 600 games. And it is no secret that for the last five of those years the strength had been missing from his arm and that "Old Pete" was out there pitching them up and still fooling the batters with nothing but his head and his heart.

CHAPTER XVIII

"George Berkeley, don't you dare insinuate that I'm lying!" Mrs. Berkeley cried, furious tears filling her pale blue eyes. "Mr. Dundee asked me if I saw Doris again, or spoke to her, and I told the truth when I said I didn't! I can't swear it was Doris who answered when I called her on the house phone—"

"On the house phone? When?" Dundee demanded. "While my husband and I were talking in the library last night, the woman answered defiantly. 'As I told you, I'd thought I shouldn't need her to wait up for me, and had given her permission to retire when she pleased. But my headache got to be so bad while George and I were talking that I decided I'd need a massage of my forehead and spine. Doris is—was—awfully good at that sort of thing. So I rang her from on the house phone and someone answered—'"

"You did not recognize the voice as Doris's?" Dundee interrupted. "We-ell, I thought I did. I—I was rather upset, and it never occurred to me at the time that it could be anyone but Doris. She had a room of her own, you know, in the servants' quarters on the third floor. I told her to go to my room and wait for me."

"At what time did you call her?" "Oh, how do I know?" she burst out angrily, dabbing at her mascaraed tears. "I wasn't watching clocks! But it was something like 15 minutes after George and I began to talk—"

"And I suppose you counted on your husband feeling so sorry about your awful headache that he'd cut short the argument and let you have your own way?" Captain Strawn cut in, apparently distrustful of Dundee's more gentle methods.

"I refuse to answer such a question!" Mrs. Berkeley cried furiously.

With a slight smile Dundee put the next question: "Then how long was it before you went up to your room, after speaking with Doris—"

COLLEGE ATHLETES
ARE VOTED LETTERS

Three athletic teams of Santa Ana junior college were awarded letters today with the approval of the executive board.

Although the team disbanded, seven baseball lettermen will receive monograms. The team played 12 practice games and 2 league contests but had to forfeit the remaining league games because several of the team members defied the conference rule banning night baseball players from college nines. Lettermen are Melvin Beatty, Elmer Whisler, Kenneth Tanaka, Ed Adams, Jack Dutton, Merle Ewell, Vernon Valentine and Nevill Hoy, manager.

Tennis lettermen are Gerald Zolla, Julius Kusel, Wilbert Buescher, Cardwell Oglesby, Bruce Harding, Leslie Hare and Thoburn White, manager. Players who will get golf letters are Van Pomeroy, Ben Peterson, Stewart McPherson, Leslie McDonald, Eric Twist and Fred Humiston, manager.

or someone!—on the house phone?"

"I don't know exactly. Half an hour, possibly. George simply wouldn't be reasonable—anyway, when I got to my room, Doris wasn't here, so I got into bed as quickly as I could and took the bromide tablet, and went to sleep."

"Weren't you surprised and displeased to find your orders disobeyed?" Dundee asked quietly. "We-ell, of course I was, but it was so late and I was feeling so wretched that I decided not to have a scene. Besides, I had already made up my mind to discharge the girl as soon as Mr. Crosby's visit was ended. He is to be with us only a week—"

"You did not call her again on the house phone?" "No, I didn't! Do I have to say so a dozen times?" "You say you went to sleep very soon after you retired?" "I didn't say so, but I did go to sleep very quickly, because of the bromide tablet, you know."

Without a word, Dundee rose, laid his notes on his chair, and strode swiftly to the bed. He stooped to pick up something from the floor and when he returned he was holding, rather gingerly, a damp ball of handkerchief.

"Did you cry yourself to sleep, Mrs. Berkeley?" he asked gently. The woman shrank from the handkerchief as if it had been soaked with blood, instead of tears. No—no, no! I didn't! I cried this morning after I'd heard about Doris—"

"Fardon, Mrs. Berkeley, but the handkerchief you were using when Captain Strawn told you the news is the one you have in your hand now," Dundee corrected her courtously. "I remember the edging of orchid linen. This one is all white, as you can see. And the condition of this handkerchief shows that the tears were not recently shed. You tucked it under the edge of your pillow when you had finished weeping last night, I think, and it fell out when you arose this morning."

The woman collapsed suddenly and began to cry into the orchid-bordered handkerchief which had betrayed her lie. "Yes, I—I did cry myself to sleep, but if you're thinking it had anything to do with Doris—if you must know, I was crying because George had been so—so cruel, so pig-headed, so nasty to me—"

"Abbie!" her husband broke in sternly. "Mrs. Berkeley, forgive me, but there are a few more questions I am compelled to ask you," Dundee began again soothingly. "First, aside from the fact that you disapproved of your son's interest in the girl, what was your own feeling toward Doris? Was the relationship of mistress and maid a pleasant one?"

"Of course it was! I wouldn't stoop to quarreling with a servant!" she sobbed out indignantly. "I am to infer, then, that you did not quarrel with the girl about Dick after the scene yesterday?"

"I—no, I didn't quarrel with her at all. I merely told her most emphatically that she was not to vamp Dick!"

"Was she sulky or impertinent as she helped you dress for dinner last night?"

.....

The tear-reddened blue eyes looked startled, then roved wildly about the room as if seeking help. And when they encountered the stern gaze of George Berkeley they clung for a moment and grew wider.

"She—she wasn't like herself," Mrs. Berkeley admitted as if the words had been wrung from her. "She—she was clumsy—"

"So clumsy that you became disgusted with her, spoke to her sharply, and after she had retorted impudently, you pushed her violently from you?" Dundee asked, his voice suddenly steely.

Captain Strawn hitched up his Now they were getting somewhere! Now they were getting somewhere!

"I—ou!—I—!" Mrs. Berkeley gasped, her hand at her throat. Then she collapsed against the cushions. "I—I have known she'd tell tales—make a mountain out of a molehill! I didn't push her! I—I just slapped her cheek, not very hard, either, but she had been grossly impudent—"

"Just when and where did this scene take place, Mrs. Berkeley?" Dundee asked.

"Why don't you ask Wickett, since he's already told you so much?" she cried angrily. "I'll discharge him, too! He and that girl were as thick as thieves, and both of them have acted, ever since they came, as if Mrs. Lambert and not I were the head of this house."

"Will you answer the question, please, Mrs. Berkeley?" "Oh, can't you let me alone?" she wailed. Then, capitulating suddenly: "It was while I was dressing for dinner. I—I told her to open a new bottle of perfume I'd bought in the city yesterday, and—and she said something impertinent—"

"Just what did she say, Mrs. Berkeley?" Dundee pressed, a strange excitement in his dark eyes.

"I—I don't remember!" the woman protested. "You don't expect me to remember every tiny thing, do you?...Well, it was just—just a word or two, like—"

Ends Piles Quick

No Salves or Cutting

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal medicine can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, removes this congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere, and has such a wonderful record of success even in chronic and stubborn cases that Schramm-Johnson invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantees money-back if it does not end all Pile misery—Adv.

BEACH CITY TO IMPROVE 15TH STREET SOON

NEWPORT BEACH, June 2.—With bids soon to be opened for building the new Newport Harbor Union High School at Fifteenth and Irvine streets, the move to improve Fifteenth and make it a major traffic highway is likely to take definite shape, according to reports.

The county is cutting a new road from the Coast highway, just west of the bridge crossing the upper bay, to the high school site and Irvine and Fifteenth. This will provide more direct access from Balboa Island and Coronado del Mar to the new high school, expected to open in September.

It is also planned, however, to use the new street as an alternate route for traffic between interior points and south coast points, which would ease the congestion on the Coast highway, especially at the Arches crossing, on Sundays, holidays and other days of heavy traffic.

Fifteenth street, at present the northern boundary line of that part of the city of Newport Beach, is only 60 feet wide. State regulations call for rights of way to be 100 feet wide, and if the extra 40 feet could be obtained, it is believed that aid could be secured for improving the highway.

The Newport Harbor Union High School Board has arranged for a 100-foot highway all around the board's 25-acre school site, if the owners of adjoining property will do likewise.

Work is expected to start soon on the new road leading from the Bay bridge to the new school, so as to be ready to handle the traffic to and from the school in September. At the same time improvement of Fifteenth street is required.

Announced by General The Blow-Out Proof Tire

Hailed as the greatest Safety advancement in modern motoring

THE amazing acceptance of the new Blow-Out Proof Dual-Balloon has no precedent in tire history. The answer is this: the blow-out proof tire is the only way to match the power and speed of today's cars and today's driving conditions.

At today's road speed if a tire blows out the best you can hope for is an open field with no ditch to stop you. It's a split second from blow-out to crash—with no time to think or act. You're off the road or head-on into approaching traffic before you can move. Don't risk it.

No matter what your speed or where you travel,

Split seconds that make you realize the priceless value of that EXTRA MARGIN OF SAFETY

you need the protection of the New General Blow-Out Proof Dual-Balloon. It ends blow-outs—it minimizes every tire hazard. You can trust it on any road, in any weather, at any speed. Double safety in those split second emergencies when it's stop, turn-quick or crash.

Extra softness under the surface that lasts as long as the tire itself means closer-clinging, skid-safe traction.

Lower pressure and built-in rubber shock absorbers give a new sensation of softer, easier riding on any road at any speed. Extra layers of soft cushion rubber prevent over-heating and inside wear . . . and this thicker cushioning absorbs the heavy impacts that cause blow-outs in stiffer tires.

That extra margin of safety in the Dual-Balloon is yours throughout the whole lifetime of its big mileage . . . mileage that outlasts your car.

LET US TELL YOU how to get them on your NEW CAR

THIS week we are making it especially easy for the hundreds of people buying new cars to roll on Generals from the start.

We've always done a big new car change-over business . . . taking off the equipment tires and putting on proper size Generals. Now with the new Blow-Out Proof Dual-Balloon we are changing all cars, large and small . . . taking off brand new tires, as well as tires of doubtful mileage . . . everybody wants the world's safest tire.

Come in, find out how little it will cost to banish tire worries for good . . . and drive out with Blow-Out Proof balloons on your new car.

Convenient payments if you do not wish to pay cash. Use our famous G. T. A. C. plan. It is financed by the General Factory. The only economical plan of its kind. No exhorbitant interest or charges.

From Road to Wreck in a SPLIT-SECOND

WHEN a front tire "blows" at high speed, you're into the ditch before you can reach the brake. No time to think—less time to act . . . Even at moderate speed you're off the road or head-on into approaching cars in a flash. Then—costly damage, permanent injury. It's a cruel penalty for a tiny temporary economy! Don't risk it . . . No longer need any motorist face the hazard of a fatal wreck through blow-out. Let us equip your car now with the tire that eliminates all the risk of blow-out.

Exclusive Features:

1. Blow-Out Proof
2. Easier Riding
3. Extra Strength

Seeks To Clear Up Status Of Dana Point Beach

ALFRED E. GUY
SAYS VISITORS ARE KEPT OUT

In a letter directed to Supervisor George Jeffrey, Alfred E. Guy, of Dana Point, today sought to clear up the question of the beach at Dana Point, which he has declared is public property but which he says has been closed and marked "private." Somewhat in doubt as to just what the board of supervisors has done in regard to the matter, Guy asked for definite information as to the present status of the beach.

Directing a letter to District Attorney Z. B. West, Guy asked to be informed as to when the public beach at Dana Point would be open again. He stated that on Decoration day 131 cars sought access to the beach unsuccessfully. He pointed out that the matter had been referred to West and Nat H. Neff, county highway superintendent. The letter to Jeffrey follows:

"The prosperity and growth of our county may not continue with the building of good roads alone. We must develop our natural resources to prosper and maintain the good roads that Orange county is so noted. The alleged erroneous placards and 'private' signs at Laguna Beach conveyed the impression to myself, like hundreds of other citizens, that that beach was private like the most of the California beaches. Our public beaches are a part of our natural resources and their development is to the interest of the county as a whole. The use and development of Laguna public beach not only adds to the city of Laguna Beach but benefits Dana Point, San Juan Capistrano, Santa Ana and all Orange county cities. The use and development of the public beach at Dana Point likewise benefits everyone in our county. It should therefore become the sacred duty of each of our representatives or supervisors to guard these beaches of our against the selfish designs of foreigners, and all fences, gates, erroneous placards and signs that bar us from the freedom of county beaches should be forthwith torn down.

"Before giving Dana Point beach to the public of Orange county, the San Juan Point corporation completed certain improvements to the extent of about $35,000. These improvements include a stone building, called Scenic Inn, containing a solid table and benches sufficient to accommodate about 50 people. It also contains a kitchen with a large cook stove and running fresh water. An outside cooking place also is available. Near the Scenic Inn is another stone building containing modern rest rooms. The road leading from the beach to the top of the bluff, locally known as Foster drive, and which is the only road-way to the beach, was improved at that time. It is taken for granted by stories handed down to us by the old timers of Orange county that Dana used this road nearly 100 years ago. The road from the top of the bluff to the street of the Green Lantern passes property of the Title, Insurance and Trust company, of Los Angeles. This property was formerly owned by

ELECTRIC STENOGR.

Russell G. Thompson of Rochester, N. Y., is shown here with an electrically operated typewriter. He has designed to take the drudgery out of the stenographer's work. The machine greatly eases the work of the operator in general typing and writes form letters automatically by means of a perforated roll. The keys dip only one-eighth of an inch.

Mrs. A. G. Walters, of Dana Point, who recognized the roadway as a public road. The roadway therefore has been open to public travel for the last 100 years, with the exception of the last few months that the gates have closed same.

"Memorial day 131 automobile parties sought access to the public beach here. About 30 cars contained fishing parties. All of these were turned away by locked gates and 'private' signs. Three of these cars were from San Bernardino. (It sort of serve us right if we found the public resorts in the mountains about San Bernardino fenced off when we visit there.) The private car of S. H. Woodruff was the only one to enter these gates. We, of the coast cities, look forward to the opening of the Ortega highway, which will connect San Juan Capistrano and other coast cities with Riverside and other inland cities. But what good will that highway be to this county if our beaches are closed? Will the people of these inland counties visit us just to trade?

"In the Register of May 28, Judge Drumm appears as representing 'Dana Point interests.' This is erroneous. Judge Drumm may represent the Dana Point syndicate or S. H. Woodruff, but he does not represent the Dana Point interests, for surely it is not to the interest of Dana Point, or any part of Orange county, to allow Los Angeles interests to take our public beach for their private enjoyment and bar it against the public use of the citizens of Orange county.

"I believe the board of supervisors will agree with me that a better beach, or beach park, cannot be found on our coast. This beach is needed by our county public, and I think that you, as supervisor of the district in which this beach is located, should cause its development by having the board regulate its use. In all events the board should open the beach to the public and without delay. I hope that you and the other members of the board will entertain the board next Sunday and that all citizens of Orange county may meet you there and thank you for returning their beach."

Guy's letter to District Attorney West follows:

"Reference is made to the protest filed May 26, 1930, by Alfred E. Guy, Dana Point, against the closing of Dana Point Beach by private parties. This protest was filed

FUTURE BRIGHT
FOR COMMUNITY
CHEST GROUPS

Agencies identified with the Santa Ana Community Chest will get through the year without financial embarrassment if pledgors to the chest fund are as prompt in paying the final quarterly obligation as they have been in meeting the previous payments. R. K. Miller, manager, stated in the annual report he submitted yesterday at the annual meeting of the chest at the Y. M. C. A.

In the following paragraphs Miller comments on the work of his office:

During the past months we have had repeated requests for information on social welfare problems, particularly as to the right procedure in reporting families in distress. While the chest gave no direct relief we referred such cases to the proper participating agency and checked back to see that the case had made connections, and the matter was being handled. Many people in need of assistance because of sickness, lack of employment, etc., came to the office and we were able to work out some of their problems without referring them further.

"We have consistently asked the community to refer outside solicitors of funds whom they did not know to us for recommendation. A few such cases have been called to our attention with the result that their activity of begging in Santa Ana immediately ceased. Undoubtedly several hundreds of dollars have been saved this community by this service. While we feel that the chest has been helpful we believe there are still several persons asking funds of the citizens of Santa Ana who have not been referred to us. Don't give your money away to those you know nothing about merely because they say it is for charity.

"Last Christmas the charity giving of the community was largely cleared through the chest office. Lists of those to whom the different organizations intended to give Christmas baskets and clothing were submitted for checking. Wherever duplications appeared it was decided which agency would care for the particular family and the name was stricken from all other lists. Many families known to be in need were on no list, and as the duplications were removed these were assigned. I believe it can be safely said this past Christmas season was one in which there was little duplication or unworthy giving. Also the gifts of the people were intelligently distributed. Co-operating in the Christmas work were the Salvation Army, County Welfare Department, Masons, Elks, Goodwill Industries, and the Churches. This coming year we hope to have a 100 percent co-operation in this program both at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

"In preparation for coming campaigns we have compiled a sure list of subscribers. We are sure this list will be of inestimable value to our workers in the years to come. It has been compiled from the subscribers of the past two years, and added to from the names of newcomers to the community. It is our purpose to develop methods that will reduce labor in campaigning to the least possible minimum. We believe the knowledge obtained during the past months, and an intelligent use of this file will materially lessen the campaign problem next fall.

"During the past few months we have been engaged in the develop-

UNIQUE FACTS ABOUT SNAKES
REPORTED BY S. A. MAN WHO HAS KILLED MANY RATTLES

Peter Hanson, of 616 East Sixth street, a resident of Santa Ana since 1917, has an interesting collection of rattlesnake rattles at his home, running into the hundreds. Hanson, who was one of the pioneers of Nebraska, settled there in 1886, and killed most of the snakes whose rattles he has preserved, during the first 10 years while cleaning up his ranch, wresting it from the wilderness.

Many interesting bits of information concerning the rattlesnake were revealed by Hanson, who is a native of Denmark. He declared that the belief that a rattler coils before striking is a fallacy, asserting that the serpents cannot strike while coiled, but that they assume an S position before they can launch an attack. He also declared that a snake cannot possibly strike at a distance greater than its own length.

The method Hanson used in killing the vipers was throwing cloths or stones until the snake would coil, hiding its head under one of the folds of its body for protection, then kicking the serpent with blows of his heel. The Nebraska pioneer, who came to the United States from Denmark in 1878, stated that he never had been bitten by a rattler, although he had been in close contact with hundreds of them.

A remedy for snake bite that he claimed was very effective and that he had tried on a boy and a horse, with resultant recovery, was making a poultice of green cactus and changing the application every hour. This draws the poison from the body, he declared. The method of preparing the cactus is burning off the stickers, then splitting the cactus open and applying next to the wound.

One interesting bit of information revealed by Hanson, was that he had found it impossible to pull a rattler from a hole that it had started to enter.

FOUR COUPLES
STILL REMAIN
IN WALKATHON

The four remaining couples in the American Legion Walkathon endurance contest are putting up one of the gamiest fights against sleep and tiredness ever seen at one of these endurance tests. It is believed that the Legion has had the finest contestants ever assembled on one floor. Those who remain are as follows:

Colleen Sullivan and Dick Giblin, couple No. 14, of Los Angeles, the smallest couple on the floor, and popular because of their clever singing and dancing. Dick was with the National Broadcasting company for two years, and Colleen a dancing teacher in Los Angeles;

Lella Thayer and her husband, Mickey, couple No. 15, a local couple who have two charming kiddies in school here and who are giving a good account of themselves in the Walkathon;

Ruby Templin, (Sleepy Time Girl) and Frank Christensen couple No. 19, the couple from the great wide open spaces, lovers of the great outdoors, who are clever entertainers with the violin and harmonica and voice;

Juanita and Jack Hayes, another married couple No. 22, from Belvedere Gardens, also have a fine baby very sweet voices and a wonderful spirit of sportsmanship.

The fact that the contest is nearly over has brought to the people of Santa Ana the realization that one of the nicest, cleanest shows ever presented here is about to close. The contestants themselves are sorry to leave Santa Ana, because of the wonderful hospitality shown them here.

The American Legion has a number of surprises in store for those who visit the Walkathon in its last exciting stages. Since the contest is nearly over they are endeavoring to outdo themselves and present during the last few hours an entertainment unequalled by any other. A big night in Hawaii is planned for tonight. The finest Hawaiian entertainers obtainable are engaged for the evening and the entire program will be made up of the Hawaiian type of music, dancing and singing. This promises to be one of the most unusual evenings so far presented at the Walkathon.

She hadn't been naughty—but her mother had her arrested! Six months' old Carolyn Borgese smiles, though, as she faces the cameraman at the Newark, N. It came about through a warrant procured by her mother, Mrs. Adolphe Borgese, who thus recovered possession of the baby whom the father had taken away. The father has been charged with desertion.

BE IN ANAHEIM
ON WEDNESDAY

A philosophy of tolerance, a love of life and of people have held back the years and given unfading youth to Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, who will appear at the Anaheim amphitheater tomorrow night. The great diva will be presented by the American Legion in a joint concert with George Stinson, Legionnaire and state traffic officer.

A great artist, a good mother and an intense patriot, is the way those who know Schumann-Heink characterize her. She has been the mother of six boys and two girls. Two of her sons she lost in the World war. Her only unmarried son acts as her secretary. Stinson set his feet on the way to fame when he began singing in local theaters and later when he sang in theaters of Los Angeles and Hollywood. He is one of the few singers to stop a show mid-night at the Hollywood Egyptian theater, which he did on a recent occasion.

Schumann-Heink will sing seven numbers and Catherine Hoffman will be her accompanist. Frances Adams will be Stinson's accompanist.

Miss Hazel Piler will give her famous pianologue between the two groups.

Fat Man
Walks Ten Miles

I don't care how fat you are or how much you hate to get out and walk a couple of miles.

If you will take one half a teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning for 30 days—

You will feel so good—so energetic and the urge for activity will be so great that you will immensely enjoy a daily walk of several miles—and lose fat.

Why will Kruschen Salts make this great change for the better in me—it is natural for you to ask.

Because Kruschen is a blend of the 6 vitalizing salts Nature says your body must have to keep every organ and nerve in the body buoyantly healthy.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ambition. Your skin will grow clearer and your eyes will sparkle with the good health that Kruschen brings.

Just try one six bottle of Kruschen Salts; it will last you 30 days. After you have taken one bottle the old arm chair won't hold you any more—you'll want to be up and doing—you'll enjoy work and active recreation and you'll sleep like a top.

You'll lose fat and probably live years longer. Get Kruschen at any live druggists in America—Mater's Drug Co., Glens & Cannon.—Adv.

Wrycende Maegden Cabinet Is Twice Entertained

Concluding days of Wrycende Maegden cabinet members' terms of office were made especially enjoyable with two delightful social affairs held the past week, one a bridge party with Miss Mildred Calkins, the club president, hostess in her home, 1516 North Broadway street, the other the monthly cabinet breakfast at St. Ann's inn.

Miss Calkins used a profusion of gladioluses in attractive bouquets to form a most colorful setting for the evening of bridge, while table appointments were carried out in the loveliest of vari-colored summer blossoms. The Misses Ruth Merton and Charlene Swartz were presented with two unique pieces of costume jewelry as winners of table prizes.

A two course luncheon was served following the very enjoyable evening. Cabinet members present were the Misses Nancy Elder, Vera Belle and Louise Bryant, Mabel Pruitt, Carol Erskine, Charlene Swartz, the Misses Ruth Morgan and Ruth Potter, of Anaheim, and the hostess, Miss Mildred Calkins.

The same group, together with the Misses Louise Proctor and Dorothy Jessup, held a breakfast business meeting at St. Ann's inn Sunday morning, and made plans for the meetings to follow.

CANDLE-LIGHTED CHURCH IS SETTING FOR LOVELY WEDDING

In the luminous glow of scores of waxen tapers, which converted the interior of the First Presbyterian church into a scene of mystic beauty, Miss Margaret Susan Whitson last night became the bride of Martin Spencer Elliott at one of the most beautiful weddings ever held in this city. It was a scene of youth and romance to which the charming girls and handsome young men of the bridal party contributed, with the lovely girl bride and her tall, blonde young bridegroom as the center of interest.

The church auditorium reflected that the bride planned the entire effect herself, with her sister, Mrs. Harrison Tracy Smith, bending her artistic efforts to the successful carrying out of the plans. Decorations were achieved by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. R. M. Alexander, Mrs. Harry Spencer, Mrs. Alex Brownridge and Mrs. Ira J. Owens.

Miss Ruth Armstrong was at the organ for the program of nuptial music, and was assisted by Theodore Harvey Jr., of Redlands, a cousin of the bride and a finished musician whose violin throbbed in such exquisite measures as the Kreisler arrangement of "Songs My Mother Taught Me," Cadman's "At Dawning," and others.

As the organ modulated into the Wagner Wedding March, the ushers and bridesmaids took their separate ways down the center aisle to the altar, where Mr. Elliott and his cousin and best man, Robert Chapman, awaited them with the officiating minister, the Rev. O. Scott McFarland. The ushers were Lyde McCleary of Honolulu, a student at California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, and Parker and Edward Adams, twin brothers.

The bevy of lovely girls had chosen gowns similar in fashion but varying in color tone. The gowns each had a deep collar effect, with normal waistline, and long, even hem-line skirt whose fullness was formed by a succession of quincely corded flounces. The cash arrangement was unusual and provided a touch of contrasting color for each frock, while a little Juliet cap of wired lace provided an unusual finish for each costume.

Miss Florence Brownridge, maid of honor, demure and lovely, was gowned in chartreuse, carrying a formal bouquet of Cecyl Brunner buds and delicate lavender flowers. Miss Clara Kate Owens, a sparkling brunette, was in coral with blue delphinium and pink rosebuds, and Mrs. Harrison Tracy Smith, formerly Miss Mildred Whitson, a sister of the bride, was a lovely and dignified young matron of honor, wearing soft tones of blue and carrying long stemmed pink rosebuds.

Miss Whitson, on the arm of her father, Walter Verne Whitson, was like a tall and stately lily among the brighter hued flowers of her attendants. Her gown of lace fell in soft folds to her satin slippers, and was fashioned along modern lines, with transparent sleeves meeting her long white gloves. A handsome lace veil was arranged in a high frill around her dark hair, with a jeweled bandeau confining it across her forehead. She wore a long chain of crystals and a diamond bracelet as ornaments, and carried a great sheaf of long-stemmed white roses.

The double ring ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Mr. McFarland, with Miss Armstrong playing a muted obbligato to the service. At the conclusion of the rites, the new Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, with their parents and bridal party, received the guests in the reception room of the church, banked with flowers. There, the close friends who have done so much to make the engagement days memorable for the young people, aided in various hospitable duties. Mrs. Elliott cut the towering wedding cake, which was served with ices under the direction of Mrs. Fred Chapman and Mrs. R. M. Alexander.

Mrs. Walter Verne Whitson, mother of the bride, wore a handsome costume of lace in cafe au lait tones, with hat to harmonize. Mrs. Nora Elliott, mother of the bridegroom, chose soft green chiffon elaborately beaded. The dainty group of the girls who assisted, added their color note to an effective picture. In this group were the Misses Eleanor Metzgar, Olive Granger, Susanna Alexander, Frances Vieira, Beth Boething, Eleanor Ralston, Marian Brownridge, Marian Bruner, Mary Bruner, Virginia Bailey, Ethel West, Virginia Harris, Julia Thorndyke, Dorothy Diehl, Sherrill Spurgeon, Ada Marie Hendrickson, Eleanor Ralston, Marguerite Lentz, Loretta Spangler, Helen Spangler and Eau Claire Lester.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott left last night for Lake Arrowhead, Mrs. Elliott travelling in a pastel toned green sports ensemble of light weight wool. Upon their return they will be established in a pretty apartment at Leck Court on North Broadway.

Many of the spring's gayest and most colorful parties have centered around last night's bride. It will be of interest to those who so admired the church decorations and the wedding details, to know

Should Housewives Exercise?

A question I am frequently asked by housewives is, "Would you advise exercise at any age from 20 up? I am active in a house-keeping way, but that kind of exercise does not reduce me." Yes, and again, yes! Exercise every day from childhood to old age for the good of health and mental happiness.

Housework, while it has its place as a form of exercise, is a very restricted one. Women have their housework so systematized that they go through the same motions automatically and thus only a certain part of the body muscles are used and exercised. To obtain full value from exercise, every part of the body must be brought into play consciously, and this can be done only by a set of exercises designed to do this, or by some form of outdoor sport. I think there is nothing better than golf or tennis for a woman, no matter what her age.

There is another subtle element which enters into the benefits derived from exercise, and that is the pleasure angle; when we do it spontaneously and with all our heart, it consequently we enjoy it and this enjoyment unlocks a mysterious something which makes us say after a swim or game, "I feel like a fighting cock."

We do not get this effect from housework because its performance has become more or less automatic and the mind is on some other subject, not always a pleasant one. I am of the opinion that it is enthusiasm and joy we get in play-exercise that makes it of definite therapeutic value.

TODAY'S RECIPES
Fruit Cookies
3 cups white sugar
2 cups butter
1 cup sweet milk
4 eggs, well beaten
1 level teaspoon baking powder
2 teaspoons grated nutmeg
1/2 cup chopped raisins
Pastry flour to stiffen sufficiently to handle.

Two cups of butter look like a lot when butter is forty cents per pound. If desired, a cup of vegetable shortening may be substituted for one cup of butter, but some butter must be used because of the delicate flavor it gives to the cookies.

Cream the shortening till soft and fluffy, add sugar in small quantities until the two are smoothly mixed. Whip in the beaten eggs and nutmeg. Sift twice two cups of pastry flour with baking powder and add to the creamed butter alternately with the milk. The chopped raisins are then added and enough more flour to make the dough just thick enough to handle—the less flour used, the more crisp and delicate the cookies will be.

Turn onto a floured board, pat into shape and chill for some

Relief Corps

Flowers in such profusion were sent to the Women's Relief Corps and other patriotic organizations, in response to the plan for blossoms for Memorial day, that for the first time in three years, there were sufficient to decorate the 500 veterans' graves in Fairhaven cemetery in suitable manner, according to women of Sedgwick Relief Corps.

W. R. C. women were at Birch park to receive the floral contributions on Thursday, and make them up into sprays and wreaths. Among the lovely flowers sent so freely, were deep red gladioli sent by their Costa Mesa grower, and made into sprays to add to the 512 bouquets fashioned by the Relief Corps workers in addition to a great assortment to place on the monument.

On Memorial day itself, 50 of the members joined 22 veterans of the Civil war in attending the exercises in Fairhaven, and after returning to this city, the Corps women served dinner at Legion hall to any veterans who wished to stay for it. Mrs. Margaret Hill was in charge of dinner arrangements.

Tomorrow afternoon the W. R. C. officers are invited to the home of their president, Mrs. Ida Millen, 512 Santa Clara Avenue, at 2 o'clock. On Friday at 2 o'clock Sedgwick post and Corps members will share a social afternoon in the home of Mrs. Annie Arnold, 405 South Birch street.

At the regular meeting of the W. R. C. last Wednesday afternoon, there were over 40 officers and members present. The usual activities of calls, flowers sent to ailing members, patriotic work, were reported, and a handsome silk flag was presented to the post in readiness for Decoration day. The character was draped in honor of the recent passing of a past department president and a past national president.

hours if possible. If not, roll out small pieces of dough, cut, and bake in a quick oven. Sprinkle the hot cookies with sugar as they are taken from the oven.

One DON'T to remember in cookie making is this: do not add dough already rolled to dough that is not. The rolled dough has taken on a quantity of flour and again rolled with fresh dough does not improve it. Keep scraps separate and bake at one time. A good way to handle this extra dough is to roll very thin, spread one-half with jam, moisten the edges and cover with another

BARRYMORE FILM ENDS RUN TODAY

John Barrymore has returned to the type of acting which first gave him fame. "The Man from Blankley's," Warner Brothers Vitaphone special which is closing tonight at Walker's State theater, is a gloriously slapstick adventure in mistaken identity.

Young, swanky and a bit tipsy, Lord Strathpeffer starts out through a fog to visit an Egyptologist, carrying with him a case of the instruments used by entomologists. He misses doors by one, and stumbles in on the party which the Tiddmarshes are giving for their rich uncle, Gabriel Gilwattle. On account of many regrets received from invited acquaintances, and fearing that there will be thirteen at table, they have gone to the Blankley Employment Agency to hire a guest, who will take the curse off the party and at the same time impress Uncle Gabriel.

The Tiddmarshes believe Lord Strathpeffer to be the man they have rented and he takes them for the antiquarians he sacks. Indeed, they look it. When the hilarious pandemonium breaks—you'll get the laugh of a lifetime, Barrymore never was more the artist.

CITY BECOMING DOGLESS

Sydney, Australia, has a scarcity of canines and eventually will become dogless, according to predictions. The number is dwindling as a result of rules that the pets may not be taken on street cars, omnibuses, ferries or ships, and are not to be allowed in any hotel or restaurant.

WANTS BEER FOR SCHOOL

Explaining that Germans are a beer-drinking race, the principal of a German school at Ealing, England, recently requested city officials to permit the selling of beer at the school so as to keep his pupils out of saloons. He was told he must form a club and apply for registration.

UNIQUE STORY IN BROADWAY PICTURE

Charles "Buddy" Rogers, "America's Boy Friend," is seen and heard at the Fox Broadway theater in his latest all-talking picture, "Safety in Numbers." The picture opened there yesterday and plays through Thursday night.

The story concerns a young millionaire, who finds that his father's estate amounts to $25,000,000, which he inherits when he is 21 years old.

Knowing that there are many women who will marry him for his money, he conceives a plan whereby he surrounds himself with almost a score of beautiful girls, believing that each will keep him from falling in love with the other, and that all will work against any one who tries to ensnare him.

The plan works exceedingly well, until the right girl comes along.

The picture is full of good wholesome comedy, while the plot is racy and happy at all times. The show is good entertainment. Kathryn Crawford, Carol Lombard and Josephine Dunn have leading parts in the production.

Aside from the feature, a Fox Movietone news reel and an all-talking comedy also are on the program.

Franz Schubert, famous musical composer, left an estate of only $10, despite the fact he had given the world some of its most beautiful music.

DOLORES DEL RIO SEEN IN 'BAD ONE'

Dolores Del Rio, famous star of "What Price Glory," and Edmund Lowe, who played Sergeant Quirt in that picture and in "The Cook Eyed World," are seen and heard again together in "The Bad One," which is now showing at the Fox West Coast theater. The picture, a "First National" production, brings the two stars together for the first time in more than a year.

"The Bad One" is the story of a dancer in a Marseilles cafe, who makes love to all of the cafe's customers. When Lowe, playing the part of an American sailor, comes into the place, he falls in love with her. She tried to have him thrown out, but he whips the bouncer instead.

This gives him a job in the cafe, as bartender, and he deserts his ship to be near the girl. He then makes violent love to her and wins her. Just as they are about to announce their marriage a former suitor of the girl's comes in and Lowe kills him.

From that point in the story to the end, the plot moves fast. Prison, an escape, the dynamiting of a bridge and the proof of true love make the ending of the picture one that will be remembered here for a long time. The story ends happily for all concerned.

A Fox Movietone news reel and an all-talking comedy also are shown.

A wheat pool is being proposed in Australia.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

Within the very fine hotel, the Tinies slept all night. 'Twas swell. The view out of the windows was a wondrous sight to see. For miles around the country spread. "Just like a carpet," Scouty said. "If I could just run round and round, how happy I would be."

Not far away wee Clowny spied a long canal. He loudly cried, "Oh, my! Where does that lead to? We can't even see the end. It winds around from left to right and then it disappears from sight. Tomorrow we will hike down to that very distant bend."

The Travel Man said, "Oh, my, lad instead of that you will be glad to ride along that big canal. Then you can sit and rest. Now, all you Tinies go to sleep and don't you let me hear you peep. At morn we all will take a trip, when you are up and dressed."

The morning came and, sure enough, they found the plan was not a bluff. Right after eating breakfast they were all down on the dock. "A boat will soon be here," said one. "And then we'll have a heap of fun. The water's very quiet so I'm sure the boat won't rock."

About ten minutes they all stood and waited. Then someone cried, "Good! The boat is coming round the bend. We'll be on board real quick!" And then the boat docked by the shore and, with a merry roar, the Tinymites all ran aboard. Said Coppy, "This is slick."

The boat soon left upon its way and then the bunch heard Clowny say, "Please tell us where we're going?" And the Travel Man replied, "To Stockholm, miles and miles from here. I'll let you know when we are near, but in the meantime just sit down and all enjoy this ride."

Missing Letter Links

RULES

1 In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE, TIE, PIE, PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2 Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3 The order of the letters cannot be changed.

Half Million Spent In Building At Newport Beach

FULLERTON TO GIVE PROGRAM THIS SUMMER

FULLERTON, June 3.—Outlining a tentative plan for a series of summer evening events during July and August in an effort to stimulate interest and activity in Fullerton during the quiet summer season, Dr. B. Dudley Snudden, pastor of the First Methodist church of Fullerton, addressed members of the Fullerton Kiwanis club yesterday at noon in McFarland's cafe, stressing the importance of Kiwanis as a community service agency.

A program for one night each week for eight weeks was outlined by Dr. Snudden, who declared that the general trend of programs and outings of organizations within the city has been to take them out of the city for their various affairs. He stated that a combined effort on the part of these various groups might be started by the Kiwanis to keep activity within local boundaries.

The plan as suggested by Dr. Snudden opens with a patriotic program on the evening of July 3 at the city park with other attractions to add to the spirit of the occasion. Other programs throughout the two months would include picnics of service clubs, churches of the community, fraternal orders, business men, women's clubs and a grand climax program with all the groups of the city participating and with a distinguished orator present.

The suggestions of Dr. Snudden were referred to the directors of the Kiwanis club and it was recommended that plans for such a program during the summer months be worked out on a definite basis.

Prizes at bridge were provided by the hostess and were taken by Mrs. W. W. Bufton, Fullerton, for high score and Mrs. Blanche Daniels was console. Miss Schaeffer was honored with a guest prize, which was a lovely pair of chiffon hose. A two course luncheon was served at the small tables.

BUENA PARK, June 3.—The Orange County Ice company has established an ice station at the Homewood service station, corner of Grand and Artesia avenues, with J. E. Hilton in charge. Day and night service is now available.

PIONEERS OF ANAHEIM WILL MEET JUNE 7 AT CITY PARK

ANAHEIM, June 3.—The pioneers of Anaheim will gather at the city park at noon on June 7 for their annual reunion and picnic. These occasions have become of great interest not only to pioneer families but to the community at large, as an appreciation of history and tradition is developing.

Anaheim was founded by a colony of 50 families of German gentlefolk in 1857. It is the oldest successful colony in the state. A 1200-acre tract was purchased from Pacific Outfitters for $2 an acre.

The first house built in the new tract has been preserved by the Mother Colony chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution as a memorial and museum. It is completely equipped with the furniture and belongings of those first settlers generously donated by their descendants. The portraits of most of them hang upon the walls. It is located on North West street at Sycamore.

Anaheim was also the home of Madame Modjeska and it was here that a group of her friends, including Sienkiewicz, author of Quo Vadis, tried unsuccessfully to work out a Utopian scheme.

The Mother Colony chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution sponsor the picnic and invite all who are interested in honoring the founders of our city.

William Wallop will serve as master of ceremonies; C. C. Chapman, of Fullerton, will give the invocation; the High School Glee club will furnish music, and Harry Carr of the Los Angeles Times will give an address.

Coffee will be served to all. The Pioneer House will be open all day so any who wish may go there.

CHURCH WOMEN GIVE LUNCHEON TO OVER 150

ANAHEIM, June 3.—An elaborate "rainbow luncheon" which was attended by 150 guests was given by the Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church in the dining hall of the church recently. Mrs. F. C. Altenow, president of the society, was in charge of general arrangements for the luncheon, which is an annual affair with the organization.

The speaker of the day was Mrs. David Thomas from the Immanuel church in Los Angeles and president of the Presbytery of this district, who gave an interesting and instructive talk of "Alaska." Mrs. Thomas has recently returned from a trip to Alaska. Others contributing to the program were Mrs. C. D. Hicks, of Santa Ana, who read "Welcome Home" and an Italian dialect encore number; Mrs. Walter Ross, soprano, sang two selections, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. B. H. Ahlley.

The dining hall was a riot of color and extreme beauty with its 15 tables appointed in all the colors of the rainbow, each presided over by two hostesses, and the guests in the fashionable prints and damask fashions of the season formed a striking background of refinement and beauty for the enlightening program.

Hostesses presiding and their color themes were: Mrs. Dora Pearson and Mrs. A. Nagel, green; Mrs. E. P. Hapgood and Mrs. Hugh Bell, blue; Mrs. Roy Vettered and Mrs. Earl Spencer, orchid and violet; Mrs. F. A. Altenow and Mrs. D. D. Sharp, speakers table, orange and yellow; Mrs. Walter Ross and Mrs. B. H. Ashley, green; Mrs. Newman Sanford and Mrs. C. C. Siddam, shell pink; Mrs. F. N. Gibbs and Mrs. H. A. Hawley, apricot and pink; Mrs. A. A. Mills and Mrs. F. Phillips and Mrs. W. E. Helting, yellow and crystal; Mrs. Marion Ross and Mrs. Lloyd Ross, pink and blue; Mrs. Huston Kier and Mrs. Hawley Merkle, pastel shades; Mrs. R. M. Fay and Mrs. H. J. Fay, yellow; Mrs. O. H. Renner and Mrs. Thomas Scott, gold; Mrs. Melvin Casey and Mrs. M. E. Beebe, rose, and Mrs. M. D. Falconer and Mrs. Conrad Jongeward, pastel shades.

GATE CITY PEOPLE BREAKFAST GUESTS

ANAHEIM, June 3.—A group of San Bernardino young people were breakfast guests Sunday morning at the S. F. Hilgenfeld home on West Broadway. The guests including Miss Leona Hilgenfeld, daughter of the hosts, who is employed as dietician at the hotel Samarkand, San Bernardino, were delegates to the Intermediate Christian Endeavor contest held in the First Christian church, Santa Ana Sunday afternoon. They were Miss Nina Moline, Miss Margaret Jigerian, Miss Mabelle Afford, Miss Violet Arnold, Miss Gertrude Hardin, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ireland, Bromley Hill, also Joe Smith of San Diego.

Miss Hilgenfeld, Miss Jigerian, Miss Hardin and Mrs. Ireland composed a quartet which contested with a quartet from Orange county and other counties. The Orange county quartet were given first place thus winning a free trip to the State Christian Endeavor convention to be held in Sacramento June 25-29. Singing in the Orange county quartet were two Rohr boys, brothers, and two Elsner brothers.

Mr. Price, representative of an Evangelical church at San Diego, was judged first in the speaking contest, in which contestants entered from Orange, San Bernardino, San Diego, Santa Barbara and Riverside counties. He also will be given a free trip to the State convention, where another contest will be held and the winners given a trip to Mt. Herman.

PERMITS FOR MAY RUN OVER $76,000 MARK

NEWPORT BEACH, June 3.—Building activity continues here. June permits amounted to $76,580, as compared with $68,000 in June, 1929. The total for the first five months of 1930 stands at $310,540, as against $375,435 for the corresponding period of last year.

Every month of 1930 has exceeded the same month of 1929, so far, except February, and every month this year has also been greater than the same month in 1928, except April.

Residential buildings on Balboa Island and Balboa Peninsula are the chief features of the present building activity, but structures of various kinds are going up all over the city. Apartments in Newport and East Newport are among the buildings nearing completion.

With rentals for the summer season in bigger demand than ever before, a continuation of building programs here is predicted. The city's harbor work, soon to be completed at the entrance, providing a channel 250 feet wide and 15 feet deep at low tide, is expected to still further stimulate construction, particularly on the peninsula.

The record improvement contractor Lido Isle, amounting to $1,170,000 and providing for a bridge to the mainland, water, sewer, phone, gas and light connections, is also well toward completion, and it is expected that a big program of house and business construction will follow the preliminary improvement work. The Mediterranean style of architecture is being followed throughout. Bids are expected to be opened a week from Monday for the work of building the new Newport harbor union high school, on a 25-acre site at Irvine and Fifteenth streets, Newport Heights. This will cause increased building in Newport Heights and Costa Mesa, it is said.

ALFRED E. GUY SAYS VISITORS ARE KEPT OUT with the county board of supervisors.

"Army duties prevented my personal appearance before the board last Tuesday. However, advice furnished through the Santa Ana Register indicated that the board favored keeping public beaches open to the public and therefore referred the matter to yourself and Highway Superintendent Nat H. Neff to determine what steps could be taken in the premises.

"I have received several inquiries relating to the status of the public's rights to the use of the beach and the date that the public may again use the beach. Most of these inquiries have been received from residents of this county. A few inquiries, however, have come from San Bernardino. On Friday, Memorial day, 131 automobile parties inquired of me as to the way to the beach, several expressing their belief that the beach was again open to them. Saturday and Sunday similar motor parties sought unsuccessfully to reach the beach. In view of the foregoing, will you kindly advise me the approximate date that this beach and the roads leading thereto may be used again by the public, so that I may give proper answers to such questions and inquiries mentioned herein. "I would also like to be advised whether the agreement referred to in the Register of May 23 on the subject of certain of property at Dana Point, relates to county beach property. This alleged agreement, according to the Register, was made between Judge P. C. Drumm, attorney, and Sidney H. Woodruff, of Los Angeles, and yourself as representing the county. The press conveyed the impression that the Los Angeles interests closed the beach with your consent. If there is such an agreement relating to this beach in question, may I be informed regarding same."

EVENING SALUTATION

"Invention is giving us the comforts of life and at a price within the means of all."
—CAPTAIN ROBERT DOLLAR

THE END OF TEAPOT DOME

Perhaps very few noted that Congress passed a resolution on May 14, which was approved by the President, authorizing the settlement, for the sum of $2,006,408, the case of the United States vs. Sinclair Crude Oil Producing Company. This is best known as the Teapot Dome case.

This case has been in the courts since 1924 in one form or another. Only one man has been convicted in the oil scandals, and he, ex-Secretary Fall, is still out of prison. Sinclair served nine months in jail for contempt of the Senate and for contempt of court. Some concerned in the scandal are voluntary exiles abroad. From the criminal side practically nothing has been accomplished. With able counsel, the Government has not been able to convince a jury of fraud or corruption, except in the case of Mr. Fall. The law's delay, which Chief Justice Taft characterized as a national disgrace, has never had a better illustration than in the oil cases.

But what juries did not effect, the courts have consummated. The oil lands which were alienated from the Government by fraud have all been restored. The damages noted above have been assessed by the courts. Everything that has been salutary in these cases has been done by the courts and by the United States Senate.

These facts should be remembered when we are inclined to criticize the courts. The courts have been open to criticism in many things; but in this case the people's interests have been well served by the courts, rather than by juries. These facts should also be remembered when we are inclined to criticize the United States Senate as a dilatory or an obstructive body. The cases never would have been brought to the attention of the country or the courts had it not been for the action of the United States Senate, and more especially Senators Walsh, of Montana, and Wheeler, of Montana. Against the most formidable influences, political and financial, the oil scandals were aired and brought to the attention of the prosecuting authorities. Even then it necessitated special counsel, independent of the Attorney-General's department to prosecute the cases.

On the whole the government won the victory, even though scarcely any of the guilty have been brought to book for their frauds and bribes. So ends one of the most unsavory chapters of our history, involving as it did officers high in the government and men high in the business world. Reputations have been blasted, and justly so. The country is well rid of the influence of the most audacious group of political freebooters who have ever prostituted public office. We sincerely hope the memory of these scandals will prevent the recurrence of the like again. We should be supremely grateful for the public men, who had the courage to face the antagonism of high public officials and high finance, with all the risks of public infamy which it invited, for the exposure of the scandals, and for the restoration of the valuable oil lands to the Government. May their number never diminish in the United States Senate nor in any other branch of the Government.

PENSION BILL PASSED

The pension bill which applies to the veterans of the Spanish-American War was passed over the President's veto yesterday at Washington. The overwhelming vote recorded against the President indicates a degree of indignation by both the Senate and the House that has hardly been equalled in Congressional history.

Heretofore, the disabled veterans of the Spanish American War have been receiving a pension, but in very limited amounts. The veterans of the Civil War have for years been receiving a pension regardless of disability. The least amount received by a veteran of the Spanish-American war will be $20.00 per month, and the pensions for age begin at 62 years. The pensions received due to disability will be increased when the pensioner reaches the age of 62 and, at different ages beyond that increases will be made in all pensions.

It has been felt by many that the Spanish-American War veterans deserve better treatment than they have been receiving, and particularly when compared with the veterans of other wars. It is unfortunate that this could not have been worked out in harmony between Congress and the President. The Spanish-American War veterans, of whom there are about 600 in the country, have reason, however, to be happy over the outcome.

Though Sharkey and Schmeling, championship contenders, will fight for the benefit of the milk fund, you can depend upon it that they'll get the cream.

GRACIOUS MEMORIES

In reading the accounts of Memorial exercises all over the country it is satisfying to record the absence of all hate toward our late enemies of the Great War. The heroic dead were graciously remembered. Their deeds and sacrifices were duly appraised and lauded. But there was no waving of bloody shirts, as happened after our Civil War. The terms "Hun" and "Boche" were absent from the Memorial addresses.

We still believe that the sacrifices were made in a justifiable cause so far as we were concerned in it. But we now know that the complexity of the whole war situation leaves few of the nations concerned in it wholly unspotted.

SEE YOUR OWN COUNTRY FIRST

The Department of Commerce is carrying on a propaganda campaign this year to keep Americans at home. The more than $600,000,000 spent by tourists abroad each year would do a great deal to quicken industry in this country if it were spent in seeing America first.

We are inclined to believe that this propaganda will have very little effect. If there is any decrease in tourist money spent abroad it will be due to the lack of cash on account of hard times, rather than on account of any campaign of propaganda. The selfish desires of vacationists are not easily changed. The lure of Europe for Americans is very great; and whatever propaganda of the Department of Commerce, it will be more than offset by the luring advertising of steamship companies and tourist agencies. Besides, the Passion Play at Oberammergau is on this year, and there will not be another opportunity to see it for ten years. Not that it is such a wonderful spectacle but it has captured the imagination of the world, and there are those who feel that life has not been lived to the full until they have seen the performance at Oberammergau.

After all, Europe will always have a strong appeal for us. Our roots are there. There are the scenes which have left their impress upon the whole world. The art treasures, the great memorials of the past, the historic shrines are there. There is no natural scenery in Europe which surpasses or equals what we may see here within the border of our own country. But tourists are looking for something else than natural scenery. The great achievements of the race are manifested on a continent richer in historic lore than our own will always have a great appeal to cultured Americans.

EXTENSIVE TRAVEL

Trans-atlantic travel from the United States to the United Kingdom, France and north European ports this coming season of June and July will exceed that of last year by thirteen per cent. According to figures obtained from the leading steamship companies the lines are booked solid for the next two months and in most instances there are long lists of prospective travelers awaiting possible cancellations. This fact is more impressive since there are 171 passenger sailings scheduled from New York to Europe during June and July.

Those who are interested to see good will prevail in international relations will rejoice especially over this extensive travel of Americans. It has been said that it is one of the characteristics of the contacts of Americans with foreigners, that however prejudiced or antagonistic Americans may be to foreigners when at a distance from them, their reserves and intolerance melts away in actual contact and they soon enter into relationship where good-fellowship prevails, when they actually come in contact with foreigners. This fact is distorted somewhat when economic factors enter into the relationship, as is so frequently the case in race troubles in this country.

The spirit of brotherhood between races is sure to be strengthened by the travel abroad, for the one who has traveled has only pity for their acquaintances who makes unfavorable generalizations about the natives of other countries.

Spelling Is Excellent Accomplishment

Pasadena Star-News

Some good spellers are born, not made. Other good spellers are made, not born. In other words, some are born with good memories and easily acquire the correct spelling of words. Others are born with defective memories, and yet, by assiduous application and hard study, become good spellers.

However, they become that way, good spellers are the salt of the earth and have an accomplishment of which to be proud. It is regrettable that not enough attention is given to spelling today. In the olden days, when "spelling bees" were popular, boys and girls and men and women studied hard and became quite proficient in spelling.

In efforts to revive the waning art of spelling, a group of newspapers of the Middle West annually conduct a national spelling championship test, with a cash prize of $1000 for the champion, with several lesser prizes.

The latest champion is Helen Jensen of Council Bluffs, Iowa, twelve years old. She won on the word "asceticism." Later she spelled "albumen" correctly.

Some of the words which "floored" all the contestants except the champions were: License, occasional, primarily, approaching, pleasantries, saxophone, conveyance, decreed, pastime, breach, litigation, necessarily, georgette, surety, lieu, philosophical, grievance, abominable, c-necede, abysses, blackguard, conflagration, asceticism.

It is an accomplishment indeed for boys and girls to be able to spell well. Spelling should be encouraged all along the line.

The Cow and California

Oakland Tribune

Stock markets may rise and fall, political battles rage on various fronts, and industry experience its various seasons, but the dairy cow of California plugs on forever.

During the past year, her friends would have it known, the California "bossey" has increased her position as a source of income to the state, turning in something like $155,967,025, or $4,334,334 more than was her 1928 contribution.

Something may be said for the quality of the California cow which is even more important than the quantity. When the figures show that the average cow produced more milk, they mean the dairy industry selects its herds carefully, eliminates the ones which do not earn their keep and rewards the generous.

The dairy industry is not without its own problems but it is conspicuously one which calls in expert advice of all kinds that quality may be maintained and improved. Dealing with health-giving necessities, it has so realized its responsibilities and opportunities that our Pacific Coast dairy products are unsurpassed any where in the world.

Oakland-dairy center by virtue of the Pacific Slope Dairy Show—may join with the others who are congratulating the faithful cow on another year's remarkable record.

TOO SOFT

A botanist discloses

That science, pretty soon,
May give us spineless roses
To scent the air of June,
That in the leafy bowers
There shortly shall be born
That miracle of flowers,
A rose without a thorn.

This meddling science, heedless
Of burdens we should bear,
Has made the orange seedless,
And plucked the prickly pear,
And now is contemplating
Additions to our ease,
By presently creating
A race of stingless bees.

Our sires faced toil and trouble
As on through life they strode,
Their backs were banded double
By many a grievous load.
But scanty were their burdens,
They labored day and night,
And yet it was their burdens
That taught them how to fight.

The rose repays the scratches
Which frequently we get
Among the briar patches
Where she is to be met.
And when all work and worry
Is gone and past and done
As on through life we hurry,
We'll miss a lot of fun.

"Excuse My Dust"

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

New York City has gone apologetic. First, polite builders beg to be forgiven for the noise of their steam-riveters. Then come Dorothy Parker with the world's most courteous epitaph: "Excuse My Dust."

It might be a polite gesture to excuse our dust after we are in the earth. But the dust we kick up while we are still on the earth needs no apology. Kicking up a dust about things as they are, is the first step towards making them what they ought to be. Our ancestors kicked up a lot of dust about unjust taxes. It turned out to be such healthful exercise that they came out of it with a new Constitution.

Government and Business are kicking up a lively dust just now about Unemployment. Everybody hopes that this dust will not be permitted to settle until we know what it is that takes men and jobs apart, and what we can do to keep them together.

The dust of stupid complacency over the prosperity of American workingmen is being ruthlessly exposed to the sunlight of pertinent questions:

Why aren't they better off?

Why aren't they well off for longer periods of time?

To be sure, these whirling clouds of controversial dust are not pleasant. "The Lord is not in them."

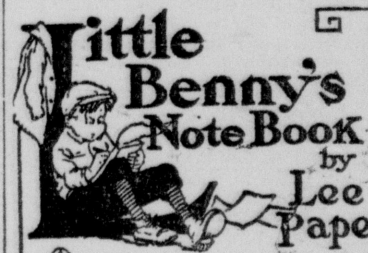

But neither, we are told, was He in the earthquake. Or in the storm. But the storm and the earthquake were indispensable preambles to peace, and to "the still, small voice."

The lively dust which Government and Business are kicking up about unemployment needs no excuse.

But what will happen when times are better and jobs are not so scarce? Will Government and Business stop kicking, while dust settles thickly over the whole subject?

For such dust, there will be no excuse.

Me and pop was taking a wawk before supper, me asking a lot of questions and pop ansering a few, and we started to go pass a house with a sine in the window saying, Madam Seero, Past, present and Future, Advice on Any Subject.

Yee gods, heers the fortune teller that's going to decide my grandsons name, pop sed. And I believe I have all the sensations of a man with a sudden inspiration. Im going in, he sed.

And he rang the bell and a lady in a red shawl opened the door, beeing a fat lady with gold teeth in front, pop saying, Am I addressing Madam Seero? and the lady saying, You are, do you wish a seance?

At least I like a conversation and Im prepared to pay for it, pop sed, and the lady sed, Enter please.

Which me and pop did, going in a room with black velvet curtains instead of wall paper, Madam Seero sat down behind a table with a big glass ball on it about a thousand times bigger than a glass marble, saying, I am at your service sir.

Well its like this, pop sed. If I have the facks strate my wife and my dawter have been calling on you to obtain help from the other world in selecting a name for my grandson, he sed, and Madam Seero sed, Ah yes, quite true, I am doing my best to be the humble medium through which the spirits may work if they are in a condescending mood.

Exactly, pop sed. I understand that the names are in a locked box, and the spirits are to instruct you which name is the preordained one. Well now theres one name that through an oversite is not on the list. The name is Willuyum, and by an odd coincidence it happens to be my name as well, and the honors the spirits would do me the honor of considering it, inasmuch as I have always been very fond of all spirits that are not intoxicating, and I am willing to donate the sum of 15 dollars tords a home for spiriting orphans, wich I will cheerfully leave here with you if you are intristred, he sed.

Indeed I am, I think it is a very worthy cause, Madam Seero sed. And pop gave her 3 five dollar bills and we went out again, pop saying, Can you keep a secret, Benny? and I sed, Sure I can, and he sed, Well this is one.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE NEW EDUCATION—LAW TWO

This week I am trying to state some of the laws that seem to me to underlie a thoroughly modern education, discussing one of these laws each day.

The first law is that we learn by action rather than by absorption, as I argued in detail yesterday.

The second law is that learning is specific rather than general.

The old theory that we could "train our mind" by studying certain things, and that this "training" would show itself in the way we thought and acted about all other things has been rather completely exploded by the researches of our modern psychologists.

We used to think that by learning to think accurately in mathematics, let us say, we learned also how to think accurately in politics.

We used to think that studying a foreign language was such good mental training in accuracy of observation and other good qualities that it was necessary to study foreign languages whether we ever used them or not.

We used to think that studying the sciences in college would make us scientific in our thinking about all the medley of problems that would later arise in our professions and lives.

We did not worry greatly when the curriculum of our college was criticized on the grounds that it made us study so many things that seemed to have no particular connection with our current lives.

We were training our minds and it did not matter greatly on what sort of material we trained them. That was technically known as the law of the transfer of training.

We now know that very little automatic transfer of training takes place.

We have seen distinguished scientists, who think with astounding accuracy inside the laboratory, become sheer sentimentalists and dogmatic partisans in politics.

We have seen experts in languages display infantile minds outside their specialism.

We now know that the best education consists in learning what we need and in the form in which we need it.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE DAILY CALM

This is a highly stimulated sort of life we are living. The speed of it is startling. The noise and the clutter and the rush are enough to drive us headlong through the hours. The children feel this and show the effect of it in their behaviour. They are irritable, they cry easily, they talk rapidly and when checked they scream. "Such a high strung child. What is one to do?"

Every household runs on some sort of daily schedule. Even if the housekeeper has never sat down with pencil and paper and made a daily program, there is one. A better one can be made by taking thought about it. On that schedule there should be a time for calm, for repose, a safe retreat.

The housekeeper, the homemaker, needs that time if she is to get through the day without losing control of herself and the household. It is not possible to live at high tension for twelve or sixteen hours, housekeepers and homemakers have long hours, without knowing terrible fatigue. The period of calm will insure against that and things will go ahead smoothly where they fell into confusion before.

But children especially need this period of calm. Just what time they are to have set aside for it depends upon the child; his temperament, his stage of growth, his choice of occupation. Some children take a nap and some don't. Give the one that refuses a nap something to keep him company and let him stay quietly in his bed, or in the hammock, or flat on the cool grass under the trees. Accompanying the child his rest period is to be adjusted.

Reading is one good exercise for rest and recreation. It furnishes food for meditation. Music, not the music that needs concentrated effort to produce it, but the music that leaks out of the finger ends as the mind dreams. Or listening to music. Reading flower catalogues rests some folk; reading their prayers, others. Day-dreaming helps some children, sewing patchwork helps others.

I cannot give you a recipe for the daily calm. There is one for each of us grownups, one for each child, according to his tastes and his needs. Try to let him select his own way of acquiring bliss and you will be safer. And set him a good example by holding sacred your own quiet hour.

JEFFERSON DAVIS' BIRTH

On June 3, 1808, Jefferson Davis, a soldier, statesman and the president of the Confederate States of America, was born at Todd county, Kentucky.

His family moved during his infancy to Mississippi, with which state his name has always been connected. Following his graduation from West Point in 1828, Davis served in the army for seven years, resigning on account of illness.

Davis first came into prominence as a member of the house of representatives and later as a United States senator. He left congress at the outbreak of the Mexican war to enlist, and gained considerable fame as a soldier. When Pierce was elected president Davis was appointed secretary of war but left the cabinet when Buchanan became president.

At the time Mississippi seceded from the Union Davis was serving in the senate. Shortly after his resignation he was elected president of the Confederate States. After the fall of Richmond
